TAKES TWO HOURS' SLEEP

Take-Off Sudden and Unexpected; Field Conditions Bad as "Flying Fool" Starts

Metagahut, N. J., May 20.—An airplane observed 10 miles south of here shortly before 1 o'clock this afternoon was believed to be Capt. Charles Lindbergh's "Spirit of St. Louis," enroute from New York to Paris. The plane was headed due east.

Metagahut is a town of about 500 population on the Bay of Fundy. It is 415 air miles from New York.

Boston, May 20.—Government and private radio stations along the coast of New England combed the sea by air in vain all the forenoon today for a trace of the monoplane, "The Spirit of St.
Louis," carrying the intrepid Capt.
Charles A. Lindbergh on a New York-to-Paris hop.

Watchers along the New England coast sent in three reports that Lindbergh was over Barrington, N. H., at 9:30 a. m., that a short time later he was over Methuen, a village near historic Pilgrimage, and again that he was climbing the fog banks over Methuen's lighthouse in Massachusetts Bay.

Government officials, however, believed that the plane over Barrington may have been the war game monoplane at Newport and that the second was one of the planes sent up from the Boston airport to scout the "flying fool."

HAS NO SENSE OF FALSE SECURITY

Rosevelt Field, N. Y., May 20
—"Lucky" Lindbergh has no sense of false security in his Ryan monoplane as he speeds towards Paris, 3,600 miles away. Just before taking off this morning he shook hands with friends and said good-by.

"When I get into that plane," he told them, "it will be the getting into a death chamber. If I get out in Paris it will be like a pardon from the governor."

A few minutes later he was on his perilous journey.

Lindbergh took the air at 7:52 o'clock.

Flying alone and carrying only sandwiches, a few chocolate bars and some distilled water, Lindbergh departed in misty weather. Rain earlier in the night had ceased at 4 o'clock.

His machine had been brought here from its hangar at Curtiss Flying Field at 4:30 o'clock in order to take advantage of the specially prepared runway nineteen-tenths of a mile in length.

The "Flying Fool" traveled almost a mile, nine-tenths to be exact, before his plane rose from the ground. He flew very low, and passed, out of sight of the thousands of watchers at the field at an altitude of only 200 feet.

MOTHER'S LOVE IS LINDBERGH GUIDE

Detroit, May 20.—Capt. Charles
A. Lindbergh, 25-year-old "flying fool," has a mother's love and guidance as he wings his way to Paris in the Ryan monoplane which he took from New York.

Paris
Lindbergh's flight is the first solo flight of a Ryan monoplane across the Atlantic. The Ryan monoplane is a single-engine, two-seat, high-winged aircraft. It is the only one of its kind in the world.

Capt. Charles "Lucky" Lindbergh is off for Paris. Above are views of him. The center photograph is a studio portrait taken in New York while he was awaiting the weather to clear sufficiently for his hop-off. At the left is another photograph of Lindbergh and his mother, Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, a widow and an instructor in chemistry in a Detroit high school. At the right is a view of Lindbergh's plane, "The Spirit of St.
Louis," in which he is attempting his epochal flight.

INDUSTRIES IN CITY ADVANCING, REPORT SHOWS

Substantial Increase in Production and Payrolls Revealed in Survey

A substantial increase in industrial production and factory payrolls in the city of Marion during the two-year period between 1925 and 1927 is shown in a report made by the bureau of census of the federal department of commerce, a copy of which was received today by the Marion Chamber of Commerce.

In 1925, the table of statistics dis-closes, there were 52 industrial establishments in the city employing 4,149 wage earners. Wage payments for the year amounted to $5,890,419 and factory products had a total value of $25, 778,550.

In 1927, the report discloses, there were 50 manufacturing concerns in operation here, two less than in 1925.
3,546 wage earners were employed, 302 less than in 1925. Total wages amounted to $4,922,844, which is $967,005 less than in 1925. Total factory production amounted to $21,551,892, which is $4, 226,658 less than in 1925.

The report gives a table of statistics for practically all cities in Ohio of more than 10,000 population and includes figures on all manufacturing concerns with annual production amounting to more than $5,000.

The information was obtained by the bureau of census through cooperation of chambers of commerce, boards of trade and similar agencies in the various communities.

Comparison Shown
A report of this kind is compiled every two years. Manufacturing statistics relating to other Ohio cities in Marion's classification and places of less population located in the section of the state provide an interesting source of comparison with the local city. Figures on several of these cities, as shown in the 1927 report, are given below.

Business: Number of manufacturing establishments, 30; number of wage earners, 1,200; total wage payments,
$1,755,939; total value of products,
$6,081,237.

Marion: Establishments, 52; wage
earners, 3,546; total wage payments,
$4,922,844; total value of products,
$21,551,892.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE PLANS VIGOROUS FIGHT

Dry Organization To Oppose
Any and All Wet Candidates

Washington, May 20.—A formal declaration of war against any and all wet candidates, irrespective of party, was laid down here today by the governing heads of the anti-saloon league, together with the announcement that arrangements had been completed to double the financial budget next year to accomplish its purpose.

A special campaign fund of $900,000 will be collected at once. It was announced, and expended over the next two years, which will encompass the national elections of 1928.

"Such a program is the first answer the league can make to the efforts of the wet who are seeking to curb our activities by stopping the financial support of our friends," said F. Scott Mc-Bride, general superintendent.

JIMMY DUNN ON STAND IN ALIENATION ACTION

Cleveland, May 20.—James A.
"Jimmy" Dunn, fight promoter and owner manager of Johnny Kilbane, is declared in a $100,000 suit filed here by Frank Fox, who accuses Dunn of abetting the abduction of the wife of Alvin Karpis.

Dunn was scheduled to talk to the crowd in Canton from July 1. When news of the abduction of Karpis's wife was received, Dunn was ordered to cancel the charge. A full statement of the charges was made by Fox and the suit was filed.

YEN TAKES DROP

Exchange Market Tumbly After Record Collapse; Trading at Standstill

Tokio, May 20.—The yen exchange market was tumbly today after an unprecedented seven-point drop. The decline was reported in two surprising tumbles in the same day.

Nonplussed, buyers and sellers halted their trading, awaiting developments.
Banks also refrained from trading.
The market as a result was at an absolute standstill.

Authorities are puzzled concerning the decline. They do not know if lack of confidence abroad or speculation caused the record drop.

4,000-MILE NON-STOP FLIGHT IS STARTED

Englishmen Hop Off at London for Karachi, India; Must Fly 42 Hours

London, May 20.—A 4,000-mile non-stop flight to Karachi, India, started at 10:42 o'clock today when Lieut. C.
R. Carr and Lieut. L. Gillman hopped off at Cranwell airfield in a Hawker-Horsley airplane.

The airplane carried 8,000 pounds of gasoline. The total weight of the plane itself is 1,450 pounds and the engines are estimated as 700 horse-power. The plane will have to remain in the air 42 hours to reach India.

SETTLE WAR CLAIMS

United States and Great Britain Pact
Calls for No Cash

London, May 20.—The United States and Great Britain have exchanged notes effecting a complete settlement of war claims. It was announced today.

The settlement provides for no cash payments, the claims almost equally canceling, it is understood.

The British claims were mainly for salvage and supplies to ships and armed forces.

Downing Street considers the settlement satisfactory.

Discussion is now in progress with Washington relative to publication of the notes.

STREITENBERGER TALKS, GRAND JURY IS CALLED

Statement Made by Ex-Detective to Prosecutor Harter and Ora Slater

Canton, May 20.—Floyd Streitenber-ger has talked!

Behind closed doors in the same room where Louis Mazer "squared" regarding the Don R. Mollett murder, Streitenberger today gave County Prosecutor Henry Harter Jr. and Ora Slater, Cincinnati detective, a statement.

On the strength of the statement, Harter immediately announced that the Stark County grand jury will be called early next week, instead of June 6, as scheduled.

What the ex-detective said, has not been made public.

"Late imprisonment in the Ohio State Penitentiary, with solitary confinement each July 10," was the sentence pronounced earlier today by Judge Frank Cleveland upon Streiten-berger.

Streitenberger's motion for a new trial was overruled and his sentence made more binding than either that of Patrick Eugene McMahon or Ben Lindane, sentenced to life terms along with him for their complicity in the crime.

E. C. TURNER CRITICIZES ACTION OF GOV. DONAHAY

Writes Executive Following Veto of Expense Item in Appropriations

Columbus, May 20.—"A veto of the attorney general's salary, or a cutting down of his force, would have been much wiser than the cutting out of his salary, sentenced to life terms along with him for their complicity in the crime."

Donahay blue-pencilled items of $5, 000 for traveling expenses and of $500 for telephone and telegraph bills for 1926 in the attorney general's department.

Turner declared that Donahay voted traveling expenses of $5,000 and telephone and telegraph bills of $500 for the attorney general's department.

FLOOD WATERS STILL RISING IN SECTIONS

Traffic Interference Seen If Overflow Continues; Heavy Damage Near LaRue

Although reports from the flood districts in Marion County today indicated that there is little if any danger of additional damage from the high waters, the flood had not reached its crest at some points and there were prospects of some interference with traffic where the rise is still in progress.

The crisis at LaRue and vicinity, where the flood situation was the most serious, was reported to be past today.
The Scioto river is receding there and inundated sections of the village were expected to be clear of water by night.

The Whetstone river, which went out of its banks between points north and east of Caladonia and south as far as King's Mills, was reported to be receding rapidly. Last night water which covered the Harding Highway, east of Caladonia, had drained off and the road was again opened to traffic.

The windstorm which accompanied the downpour of rain Wednesday night did extensive damage south of LaRue, according to reports coming from there today. A valuable fruit orchard of about 50 trees on the Burdage farm, about five miles from the village, was almost completely destroyed, most of the trees being uprooted and others being damaged beyond repair. The orchard was estimated to be worth about $1,000.

The gale also blew the roof from an abandoned schoolhouse on the Wonnecamp near the Harburg farm.

A number of farmers in the LaRue district lost poultry and livestock which were drowned in the flood waters. A large amount of other stocks was saved by farmers who worked for hours Wednesday night and Thursday morning to reach the animals, many of which were marooned on high ground in the inundated territory.

While the Scioto is going down in the LaRue district and other points to the north, it is rising steadily to the south in the vicinity of Green Camp and Prospect, reports state. At Newmen's,

"BIG BILL" TILDEN HANDS RENE LA COSTE DEFEAT

Achievement American's First Real Accomplishment in Comeback

State Franklin, St. Cloud, Vt., May 20.—"Big Bill" Tilden, had a comeback of revenge and mounted the first real rung in the ladder of comeback today when he defeated Rene La Coste in straight sets in the Franco-American tennis match here.

Tilden defeated LaCoste who last summer won the American title again after a long absence. Tilden has held the title for as long as 10 years.

In the first of three matches, La-Coste won the first set, 6-4. Tilden won the second set, 6-2. Tilden won the third set, 6-2. Tilden won the match, 2-1.

Tilden's comeback was a real achievement. He had been defeated by LaCoste in the first round of the French Open in 1926. He had been defeated by LaCoste in the second round of the French Open in 1927. He had

23 OF STATE'S ELECTRIC LINES OPERATE BUSES

Companies Have 671 Motor Conveyances in Service Over 1,531 Miles

Twenty-three Ohio electric railway companies are now operating motor bus service in conjunction with electric railway service, according to a recent survey made by the American Electric Railway Association.

These companies are operating a total of 671 motor buses over 1,531 miles of bus route.

The Columbus, Delaware &

Marion Electric Co., operating interurbans through this city, have three buses in use. Two are operated in the city of Delaware, taking the place of street cars and carrying other passengers from Delaware to Hickwood, a distance of about seven miles.

These buses were put into operation only a few months ago and are among the recent improvements made on the C., D. & M. lines.

Ohio railway companies are operating almost one-tenth of all the buses over about the same percentage of route miles in the country. The Northern Ohio Power & Light Co. leads the state with 225 motor vehicles.

Trains on Time
All passenger trains operating through Marion were on time yesterday in spite of the rainstorms over the surrounding states.

Safety Work Stressed
All local railway officers, safety committeemen, and members of maintenance-of-way and construction gangs of railroads operating through Marion have received a special circular sent out by the American Railway Association stressing safety work among maintenance-of-way employees during the coming month.

The circular carries a schedule of the activities of the safety section of the association for June. Satisfactory reduction in all railway accidents as a whole was made in 1924, 1925 and 1926 but the maintenance-of-way and construction departments did not help the decrease, figures show.

Special efforts are being made this year to cut down the percentage of accidents.

Visits in Marion
F. B. Swapp, traveling freight and passenger agent of the Union Pacific Railway System, having offices in Cincinnati, was a visitor in Marion offices yesterday.

A. F. Placke, traveling freight agent of the Northern Pacific Railroad, was in Marion yesterday.

KIWANISANS INTRODUCED TO HEALTH CAMP GIRL

Supt. Jesse H. Mason Compliments Club for Its Underprivileged Children Work

Kiwanians at their luncheon at Hotel Harding yesterday were given the opportunity of meeting in person a product of their efforts in promoting the fresh air camp for underprivileged children, when they were introduced to Miss Vonnie Mae Cook, the 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Cook, E. Farming st.

Two years ago Vonnie Mae, who is a pupil in the sixth grade at Maria Street School, was selected as an underprivileged child and was the guest of the club at the fresh air camp. Today she was introduced to the club by Jesse H. Mason, superintendent of the city schools.

In introducing Vonnie Mae, the school superintendent praised the club for the work it is doing, saying "it is one of the finest pieces of service I know of in the city."

John Green of Cleveland, former secretary of the National Association of Retail Grocers & Meat Dealers and Homer McKinney, state secretary of the Ohio Association of Retail Grocers & Meat Dealers, spoke at the luncheon.

WILLYS-KNIGHT PRICE REDUCTION ANNOUNCED

Following a statement made today by John N. Willys, president, that production of the Willys-Knight "great six," since its introduction a little more than two years ago, had put it in third place among all cars selling above $2,000, price reductions on this model were announced today.

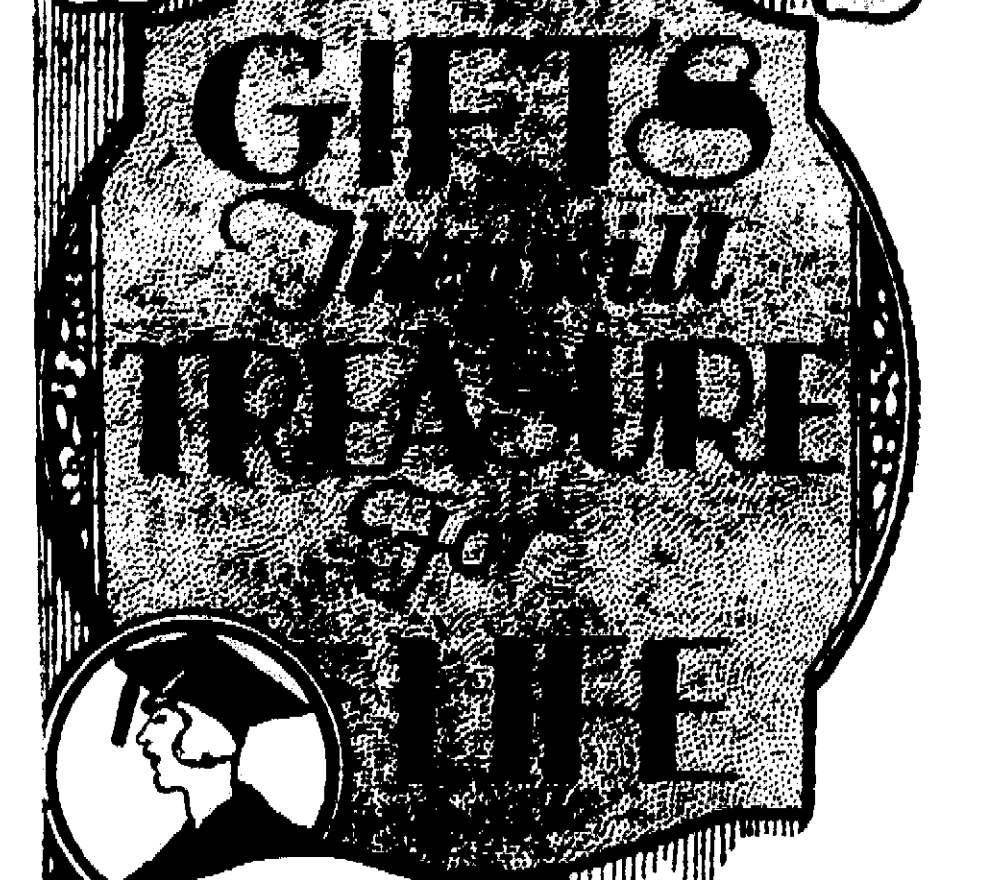

The five-passenger enclosed cars were cut $300 and the special roadster was reduced $200. All but the seven-passenger types and new four-door are now below $2,000, the first time this mark has been reached in the enclosed types.

Scenes of Corn Borer Work and of Pest Common in Northern Ohio

First picture on left shows farmer preparing to burn corn stalks, considered one of the best methods of destroying the corn borer. Simply pulling the stalks on a pile will not destroy them. Second picture from left shows stages of borer's development. Ten months of the year, from July through April the corn borer lives as a larva, or caterpillar in the corn stalk. In May it goes to the pupal stage shown at the bottom of the picture. In June it emerges from the corn stalk as a moth. It is wherever the wind takes it and the female lays from 350 to 500 eggs in the young corn plants. Eggs change to larvae and the borers are at work again.

Middle picture shows a bird's-eye view, greatly enlarged, of a few of the 211 corn borers found in one hill of corn in a heavily infested area in the United States. Ten borers are sufficient to ruin one stalk.

Fourth picture from the left shows several pieces of brown corn, sectioned to show the larvae. This is the way America's greatest corn pest came over to the United States in 1909 from Hungary. At that time there was no federal plant inspection. The last picture on the right shows how borers are being pressed into service in territory infested by the borer. The farmer is shown cutting ting corn stubble off close to the ground in preparation for plowing or burning. Farmers are relying on this method of cleaning up remnants of the 1926 crop in order to meet the government regulations.

HARDING SENIORS PLAN CLASS DAY EXERCISES

Event Will Be Held at Chautauqua Pavilion June 2, Instructor Announces

Plans for class day exercises for the graduating class of Harding High School, to be held at Chautauqua Pavilion, Garfield Park, June 2, are nearing completion, according to an announcement made today by Miss Edith

Brown, instructor in charge. Featuring the program will be the two addresses to be given by junior and senior class presidents, Joe Hirsart of the senior class and Edward Houghton, junior. Miss Virginia Smith will give the class history.

In charge of the class will be read at that time, are Clyde Morrison, Jean McWolfe, and Paul Reller, while the class prophecy is being prepared by Marvin Rife, Virginia Wilson, Elizabeth Morgan, George Greaser, and Charlotte Kramer.

Interest in class day exercises centers on the honor roll, and the annual presentation of two medals, a history medal for the prize history student, donated by the Daughters of the American Revolution, and an award for the student most proficient in the public speaking classes.

The program will also include a piano duet to be played by Miss Charlotte Kramer and Miss Clara Gillen and a vocal duet by Misses Viola and Lavona Penstock. William Hammer and Paul Dowler will be heard in a violin duet.

Barrennate sermon will be given by Rev. Alfred W. Swan, pastor of Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church, at the pavilion May 29, and commencement exercises will take place there June 2.

Children Have Own Little Church Built With Funds Raised by Them

Choir at practice in chapel, with insets of Rev. Phil Porter and Deaconess Elizabeth Fracker

DAYTON, May 20—Dayton has a children's church, believed to be the only institution of its kind in America. It is Dayton's answer to the suicide epidemic among students several months ago.

In this church, from week's beginning to week's end, groups of children that aggregate into the hundreds, are learning how to give vent to their emotions in natural communion with the better things of life.

In a church that lives and thinks and talks seven days a week, they are being made to feel that the little life they have already lived is so interesting that the years ahead have so much in store they cannot afford to miss them.

Raise Money Themselves
Dayton's children's church is the fulfillment of the prayers of a little group of children who wanted a church of their own. After their prayers they did not wait for the magic turn, but instead, with parents' guidance, they set to work to raise the money.

A little since church complete with its chapel, its organ, its choir, its classrooms, all controlled by children, is "the dream come true."

lead the way. The Rev. Phil Porter and Deaconess Elizabeth Fracker are at the doors of the miniature church each day as the children live in from the classrooms of the public school a few hundred yards away.

But it is the child, of impressionable mind and heart, who made the daily passage from the Bible, who plays the organ and who directs the choir.

And while parents go their ways on Sunday mornings for worship in the traditional pews of the city, several hundred boys and girls are at prayer in their own little chapel where religion is made a living, tangible part of their lives.

Praise His Daring
Naval flying experts were loud in their praise of Lindbergh's daring, but they were frankly pessimistic over his chances for success.

The fact that he chose the great circle course, they pointed out, will carry him north of the shipping lanes, and if he is forced down his chances of being picked up are exceedingly small as there are few ships plying that course, Nungesser and Galt flew the same course.

They also declared that Lindbergh has only a compass, carrying no navigator, and that compass flying over this route is extremely hazardous and liable to error. If he got off his course they believe he might wind up in Greenland.

"COLUMBIA" TO WITHDRAW IF FLIGHT SUCCESSFUL
Roosevelt Field, N. Y., May 20—The Bellanca monoplane, "Columbia," will be withdrawn from the New York Paris race if Capt. Charles Lindbergh successfully completes the non-stop 3,000 mile flight which he started this morning, an official of the Columbia Aircraft Corporation announced today.

"We wish Lindbergh all the luck in the world," he said, "and if he makes the flight to Paris we will not attempt it. If he should fail the 'Columbia' is ready to start."

Peaceable Solution of Corn Borer Drive in County Seen When Program is Modified

Change in Regulations Authorized by Federal Department of Agriculture at Request of State Director Charles V. Truax

Prospects of a peaceable solution of the corn borer campaign in Marion County and other counties in the border section of the Ohio quarantine area were increased today, with official announcement of an important modification of the federal state cleanup requirements.

The change in regulations, authorized by the federal department of agriculture at the request of Charles V. Truax, state director of agriculture, exempts oats, barley and rye fields from the order requiring the removal of all corn stubble left from last year's crop. It applies only to territory where the corn borer infestation is one percent or less.

Fields Exempt
Under the modified corn borer regulation, fields which are now planted in wheat, oats, barley and rye are exempt in 27 Ohio counties, including Marion, and parts of four others. Wheat fields were exempt in an order issued about two weeks ago.

Several developments during the last few days are reported to have been instrumental in bringing about the order of modification. The movement toward a let-down in the cleanup regulations started early this week when a delegation of Marion County farmers called upon Director of Agriculture Truax and urged four treatment for farmers in this county, especially those who have planted their fields and who would be practically certain to suffer serious losses should they be required to comply with the original corn borer campaign orders.

Special Reference
Special reference was made to the case of James B. Guthrie, who had received notice that his 100-acre field of oats, west of the city, should be cleared of all corn stubble within 48 hours. The oats on this land is about seven inches above ground and the corn borer work could not be done without serious damage.

Under today's modification of the cleanup regulations, the Guthrie field will not be molested.

Truax indicated following the conference that he would take the matter up with federal authorities at once and recommend exemptions not only in Guthrie's case but in connection with all other farms where planting had been done.

Injunction Has Effect
The suit brought in Hardin County yesterday by Sheriff Crooks of that county, resulting in an injunction being issued against the corn borer cleanup work on his farm, was another development which is said to have led to the Truax recommendation and its approval by the federal department.

In the meantime, Marion County's seven corn borer inspectors are going ahead with their survey of the situation in this county and have reports in readiness for the federal state cleanup forces. The cleanup clean up is being held in abeyance until definite instructions regarding the modified orders are received. The exemption regulations are being drafted today at Columbus and will probably be in the hands of district corn borer directors Saturday.

Poster L. Finkle, director in charge of the campaign in Marion and Wayne counties, was here yesterday and held a lengthy conference with the inspectors. He also made a personal tour of the quarantine area in this county.

RITCHIE LIKES REED FOR DEMS' NOMINATION
Kansas City, Mo., May 20—Sen. James A. Reed of Missouri is unusually high presidential timber, in the opinion of Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, of Maryland. The governor, himself mentioned for the Democratic nomination, made that estimate in Kansas City, Maryland's native son said he was making no move to get the presidential nomination.

HEARING RESTORED BY BLOW OF GOLF BALL
Eric, Pa., May 20—J. Wayne Haskell, a janitor, has discovered a new, although harsh, cure for deafness. Haskell was struck by a ball while playing golf. When he recovered he found his hearing had been restored.

MARSHAL KILLED IN DUEL WITH CONTRACTOR
Culiac, Ia., May 20—J. N. Dubois, Culiac town marshal, was killed, and J. R. Whittington, timber contractor, seriously wounded in a gun fight at Whittington's home here.

JAMES HIS ARM
Zanesville, May 20—David Orrill, 20, of Atlanta, Ga., negro circus roustabout, lost an arm in a casual accident here last night. His arm became entangled in a rope being used to lower heavy goods from a car, and the arm was saved off. He is in local hospital, where it is said he will recover.

ARRAIGNMENT OF 11 MEN SET FOR SATURDAY

Group Indicted by Grand Jury To Appear Before Judge Scofield

Eleven men indicted by the Marion County grand jury in the report of its closing session, filed yesterday, will be arraigned before Judge Scofield in common pleas court, Saturday morning.

Two others, indicted at the first grand jury session held May 9, were arraigned last week and entered pleas of guilty to part of the charges listed in the indictments and not guilty to other charges.

Following the arraignment proceeding Saturday Judge Scofield is expected to set trial dates to begin next week. He announced recently that he hopes to conclude all jury work before June 1, which will necessitate early hearings for all of the men under indictment.

Sale Authorized
In the partition suit of Howard Armstrong, guardian, against Mabel Long and others, a second order of sale has been authorized by Judge Scofield. Efforts to sell the property were unsuccessful following the first court order.

Given Leave To File
E. R. Schofield of Bucyrus, defendant in a damage suit brought by Miss Marie Rohrer of Akron, has been given until June 30 to file his answer in a court entry made by Judge Scofield. The damage suit is the outcome of an automobile collision which occurred north of Marion. Miss Rohrer alleging that she was permanently injured and that the collision was due to careless operation of the Schofield automobile.

Suit Settled
A suit brought in the common pleas court on Nov. 24, 1935, against James Spencer and others, in which John L. Burgess asked judgment for principal and interest of a $1,000 liberty bond which he claimed was taken from him without his knowledge and consent, has been settled out of court. The terms of settlement were not disclosed.

Spencer and other defendants named in the suit denied all of the allegations in their answers to the petition. The case never came to trial.

Answer Filed
The Peoples Bank of Bloomington, Ill., filed an answer and cross petition yesterday, in the suit of Englebert B. Kuhn against Mary Speers and others, setting up a claim of $48,200 on a promissory note given by Edward and Averella Fidler.

The suit was brought by Kuhn for foreclosure of a mortgage on 500 acres of land in Big Island Township, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fidler.

The bank asks that its claim be ranked as third lien on the property and that it be paid from proceeds of the foreclosure sale after the Kuhn mortgage and a mortgage held by the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. are paid. The bank is represented by the law firm of Chabert & Warner.

Partition Suit
Herbert B. Hader, through his attorney, W. N. Dyer, brought suit in the common pleas court yesterday asking for partition of the estate of Mary H. Day. He names as defendants Leona L. Hader, his wife, Charles G. Hader, Laura Day, wife of the plaintiff, and Patrick Kelly.

Day is a widow who is entitled to an undivided one-half interest in the estate. He asks that Patrick Kelly file an answer setting up whatever interest he may have in the property. The property referred to in the petition is real estate located on E. Church st.

Appointment
Appointment of Mildred Martin as administratrix of the estate of Mary J. Lutz was made in probate court yesterday.

DR. U. S. DAVIS NAMED ON OHIO BAPTIST BOARD
Trinity Pastor Chosen To Serve on Education Body at Youngstown

Dr. U. S. Davis, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, was elected to the board of education of the Ohio Baptist Association at the meeting of members of that body at First Baptist Church, Youngstown Monday-Tuesday of this week.

The board will have charge of the two Baptist Universities, Denison and Rio Grande, the latter a junior college. Financial aid given students during their terms there will be under the direction of the board. Special aid is given students studying ministry.

Others in attendance from Marion were Rev. E. L. Holliday, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church, and Rev. A. G. Adriance, former pastor of First Memorial Baptist Church. Dale Gorman of Trinity Church, Erie, Pa., was called to New York City on business and unable to attend. Mr. Gorman is president of the State Baptist Young Peoples' Union and has charge of all young people's activities and work in the church.

A total of 198 delegates were in attendance and 200 guests. A similar convention will be held in Cincinnati in May, 1938.

DETROIT MAN FINKED BY
W. P. Brown paid a fine of $10 and costs in municipal court today when he pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication when arrested before Judge Martin. Brown, who gave his home as Detroit, was arrested last night.

HERE'S MORE ABOUT LINDBERGH

hind. Even before leaving the ground Lindbergh accelerated his engine to an unusual degree, and "bumped" on the muddy field several times before finally taking to the air.

Hitling Terrible Speed
Arthur Caperton, a Texas man who attempted to keep up with the St. Louis aviator, said that he was doing "better than 100."

"He was hitting a top at terrible speed for the lead he was carrying," Caperton said. "He is flying low to keep under a heavy fog blanket which would have blinded him if he had tried for altitude. If his motor failed he'd crack up no matter what height he was at, with that load, but his engine was hitting perfectly when he swung northeast at the end of Long Island. We left him there or rather he left us. We couldn't keep up with him."

Commander Richard Bird, who plans to hop off soon in his giant Fokker on a similar expedition, waved good bye to the young St. Louisian.

"Good luck, old man," he shouted. "I'll see you in Paris."

Lindbergh only grinned. A great cheer rose from the packed thousands of watchers on the field, who were held back by heavy police detachments, as the silver-colored plane, glinting in the faint sun which shone through a fax disappearing mist, rose from the ground, its engine roaring a last farewell.

Carries 5,130 Pounds
Lindbergh's plane carried a total weight of 5,130 pounds, said by officials to be the heaviest load ever taken off the field by a monoplane. The final load of gasoline had been taken aboard just before the start.

Among those to wish the young aviator good luck on the non-stop flight to Paris, a feat which never yet has been accomplished, was Clarence Chamberlin, who had hoped to take off on the 3,000 mile hop before this in the Columbia Aircraft Corporation's Bellanca monoplane. Chamberlin's flight is held up by litigation between the corporation and Lloyd Bertaud, his copilot. Bertaud was not at the field this morning.

Lindbergh, who was hardly known to the general public until a short time ago when he made a sensational trip across the country from San Diego to New York, carried almost no passengers with him. He had a few sandwiches and some water. Not even coffee was taken to assist him on the long trip, which it is hoped will end Sunday morning when the "firedred" lands in Paris.

Take-Off Sudden
The take-off was sudden and unexpected, entirely in keeping with Lindbergh's desire to get away on his great adventure with the least amount of excitement. It was all in the days work with him. Sudden activity was noticed in his hangar early this morning, a crowd began to collect. The machine was taken over to the long get-off runway at Roosevelt Field and the gas taken aboard.

Lindbergh tested his struts, and went over his plane carefully, and the watchers increased to well over 3,000. As soon as the gas was aboard he climbed to his place, and the engine roared. After a few minutes of warming up, Lindbergh turned to his mechanics and waved that he was about to take off.

As he "gave it the gun" he smiled calmly at the excited crowds, waved to Byrd and other friends, and roared on his way.

Field Conditions Bad
The floor took off in the very worst of field conditions. The runway was muddy and bumpy. As the "Spirit of St. Louis" started on its lonely journey, it was a moment of intense anxiety. Then as it picked up speed it seemed to glide.

"But he can't take off at that speed," "Why doesn't he stop?" "Lindbergh was on his way, however, and nothing was going to prevent him from continuing. The silver monoplane bumped along, bouncing on the muddy runway as it picked up, and it was almost a mile down the field that it finally got into the air.

Few moments later nothing was left, the plane having swiftly sped into the mist, straight out toward Montauk Point and the long lonely miles of the Atlantic.

For a few minutes the roar of the engine could be heard, and then there was nothing. "Dreadful" Lindbergh was truly on his way.

Lindbergh's preparation for his long flight included but, two hours of sleep. He went to bed about midnight, after attending the movies, and left a call for 2:15 this morning. He was up before that time.

M'CLAIN RESIGNS AS RETAIL MERCHANT HEAD
The resignation of Charles W. McClain as president of the board of directors of the Retail Merchants Bureau was announced this morning by Kenneth Fields, secretary of the bureau.

Mr. McClain who recently disposed of his ready-to-wear store on W. Center at the Roberts Company, of Columbus, has accepted a position as manager in the furniture department at the Halle store in Cleveland.

MAN IS INJURED WHEN SCAFFOLDING GIVES WAY
Wallace Hans, Morral, Route No. 2, sustained minor injuries about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon when a scaffolding, under which he was working, fell causing a plank to strike his head. He was removed to City Hospital in the C. E. Curtis & Co. ambulance and was discharged today. His injuries were body bruises and cuts about the head.

S. S. TEACHERS ATTEND COUNTY CONVENTION
Sunday school teachers and scholars of all Marion County Sunday schools are represented at the county Sunday school convention being held today at Trinity Baptist church. R. S. Dickinson of Columbus, Sunday school leader, will be the principal speaker at both afternoon and night sessions.

Grief Stricken

Mrs. John E. Williams, widow of the murdered vice president of Nanking University in China, has returned to the United States, arriving in San Francisco with her daughter, Faith, 18, and son, Richard, 16, and going on to New York and thence to Boston.

Mrs. Williams' death shocked the Nanking students in the danger of the Communist element in their ranks," says Mrs. Williams, "and the result may prove the salvation of China. He left our home with a Bible in his hand—and was murdered half an hour later."

OAK GROVE-AV WILL BE OPENED LATE SATURDAY
Recent Rains Help to Season Concrete Pavement of Street, Engineer Says

City Engineer, the concreting of which was completed one week ago last Monday by P. Drake & Sons, will be opened for traffic Saturday night. It was announced by City Engineer Tom R. Gathers this morning. The recent rains have assisted in seasoning the concrete and it is the belief of the engineer that the street will be ready for traffic by tomorrow night.

Work of pouring the concrete for the curb and gutter on Holmes st. was resumed this morning and it is expected it will be completed by tonight. Good weather continuing the fine grading will be completed this week, Henry Drake of the firm of P. Drake & Son, said today, and the work of pouring concrete for the base will be started next Tuesday. The concrete base, which will be six inches in thickness, will be covered with a coating of sand on which the track will be laid.

GROVER DEFENDANT IN MUNICIPAL COURT SUIT
Alva Bowerman, 7, Seeks $794 Damages Through Her Mother

Orville P. Grover, 677 Silver st., has been made defendant in a damage suit brought in municipal court by Alva Bowerman, 7, through her mother, Mrs. Frank M. Grover, in which $794.24 is asked for injuries said to have been sustained by the child when she was struck by an automobile driven by Grover.

The accident occurred on Bennett April 13. The petition charges that Grover was driving at the rate of 40 miles an hour and that the child was dragged for a distance of 40 feet before the car could be brought to a stop. She suffered a fractured hip and other injuries which kept her in the hospital for a week. The petition charges.

The amount asked for includes a $15 doctor bill, $24.25 hospital bill, and $55 for surgical treatment.

MARION WOMEN ATTEND LIMA CLUB'S CONCERT
Mrs. Maud Murchison of Kenton, director, and Mrs. Carl Schell, Mrs. L. E. Wagon, Mrs. Emma Vanden, Mrs. Harry Moutz, Misses Doris Jacobs and Christine Rock, members of the women's chorus of the Lecture Relief Club, attended the concert presented by the Women's Music Club Chorus of Lima at Memorial Hall Wednesday night. The program was presented in connection with the Lima May Music Festival, May 18 to 28. Mrs. Miltie Sonnenlage, Ufer directs the Lima Chorus.

BIRTHS
A son was born this morning to Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Tron at their home, 217 North st.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Alexander are the parents of a son born this morning at their home, 146 W. Fair ground st.

WORKMAN HURT
Orville V. Leavin, 414 Van Buren st., sustained minor injuries this morning when he was accidentally struck across the chest by an iron bar while straightening steel at the Polak Steel Co. plant where he is employed. He was removed to City Hospital in the C. E. Curtis & Co. ambulance. His injuries are not regarded as serious.

BELIEVE WRECKAGE NOT THAT OF "WHITE BIRD"

Hold Theory That Fuselage Worth Nothing in Nungesser Mystery

Washington, May 20—The piece of airplane wreckage picked up off the north Atlantic coast and towed into New London is not a part of Capt. Charles Nungesser's missing transoceanic "White Bird," in the opinion of U. S. coast guards officials, expressed here today after a lengthy telephone report had been received on it from Capt. H. G. Hamlet, commanding the coast guards destroyer force at New London.

The wreckage, instead of being a wing as suspected, was a rectangular piece of fuselage, some twenty feet long and of a silver coloring.

The markings consisted of a large letter "A" with a perpendicular line running from the upper part of the "A." Below this letter was another smaller letter "A" coupled with the numerals "40" and making "A 40." These letter markings were cut into the framework of the wreckage.

"This wouldn't appear to be Nungesser's plane," said one official. "More likely it is a part of the wreckage of some run-running plane."

The wreckage was found floating in the water between Block Island and Montauk Point.

Further investigation will be pursued, however.

THREE STORES TO CLOSE WEDNESDAY AFTERNOONS

Usher-Phillips, Frank Brothers and Warner & Edwards To Observe Schedule

Marion's three largest department stores, the Usher-Phillips Co., Frank Brothers and The Warner & Edwards Co. will join banks and building and loan companies in closing their places of business on Wednesday afternoon starting the second Wednesday in June. It was announced this morning by Kenneth Fields, secretary of the Marion Retail Merchants Bureau.

Because of closing on Memorial Day, the original plan of closing on the first Wednesday afternoon in June, was changed in the second Wednesday. The Junior Co. with stores on W. Center and S. Main st., will close both stores on Wednesday afternoons during July and August. Practically all grocery stores in the city have also signified their intention of closing during June, July and August.

Hardware dealers who did not close last year will hold a meeting Monday night to determine whether or not they will close this summer. No definite information as to the plans of other merchants relative to closing on Wednesday afternoons has been received, Mr. Fields said this morning.

H. H. KELLOGG PROMOTED TO FIRST LIEUTENANT

Many Changes in Howitzer Company Staff Are Announced

Harold H. Kellogg, second lieutenant with Howitzer Company, 106th Infantry, O. N. G., has received notification of his promotion to the grade of first lieutenant. It was announced today.

These changes announced were the promotion of Sergeant Lester Ploner to second lieutenant, to fill the vacancy made by the promotion of Lieutenant Kellogg Joseph Heli, sergeant, to first sergeant; Corporal Arthur K. Amick to sergeant; Earl Kemmerer, private of the first class, to corporal, and the reduction of Earl Ploner from sergeant to private.

SCARIFYING WORK WILL BE RESUMED SATURDAY

Rain Halts Work of Conditioning Hard Surface and Dirt Streets

Work of scarifying the hard surface and dirt streets of the city, which was interrupted by the recent rain, will be resumed Saturday if the rain holds off. It was announced this morning by New vice Director Boydett.

It is the plan of the department, the director said, to scarify every street in the city which is not paved. The roller and scarifier recently purchased by the city, will be kept busy every day, weather permitting, until the snow melts, the service director said. Continued treatment is necessary for the first year at least, to keep the streets in good condition, he said.

No partiality will be shown in the repairing of the streets, according to the service director. The hard surface streets will be the first to be treated because of the muddy condition of the dirt streets.

There is this to be said for the weather thus far this spring: It has wonderfully simplified the work of street sprinkling.

But when all is said, "Achievement" week may not be without its place, even if it doesn't do more than remind us of what we haven't done.

The reader may have noted that the senate primary investigating committee hasn't functioned to any extent since the mazuma for expenses failed in development.

Another thing. The weatherman should realize that he hasn't yet given the girls an excuse for rolling their stockings, which is going some, considering what little excuse they demand.

Still, let us not be too ready to complain of the public utility poles along the streets. Think of all the protection they afford to the fronts of our homes!

Having thought the thing over, Almee is liable to conclude, one of these days, that she would have been money ahead had she foregone that dash through the hot desert sands and paid for her advertising at regular newspaper rates.

Out in Jeffersonville, Indiana, where an attempt to keep a little girl out of school because she wore knickerbockers ended in failure, the school board has sued the little girl's mother, the mother's lawyer and her bondsmen for $5,000 damages, $500 representing the cash expense to which it was put in a court proceeding and $4,500 for "exposing the board to public ridicule and demoralizing the schools." It is a question if such a board could be damaged to the extent of $5,000, or in any other amount, but, in any event, the way it looks to us, justice would force the board to maul itself.

Out Over the Atlantic.

Unmindful of the growing feeling that the hazard of an attempt to make a non-stop flight from New York to Paris is out of all proportion to any benefit which can possibly accrue from the accomplishment of the perilous feat, the daring pilot of "The Spirit of St. Louis," Captain Charles A. Lindbergh, "hopped off" early this morning and is now far away over the Atlantic.

There has been a marked change of feeling on both sides of the Atlantic, of late, regarding the propriety of attempting flights such as this daring and daring American aviator undertook this morning and the aeroplane has been developed to a point where it offers a greater degree of promise for successful accomplishment.

Among other evidence of this is the protest against further attempts at non-stop transatlantic crossings by the French air expert, General Dural. Being the fact that five French airmen—St. Roman, Mounayres, Petit, Nungesser and Coll—apparently had lost their lives in such attempts, General Dural holds that it has thus been demonstrated that the aeroplane has not yet been developed to a stage of efficiency to justify further effort at this time in this direction, and he urges that competitive aspiration is neither good sport nor does it serve the cause of aviation.

Writing in the Paris Figaro, the general says that, as sport, such a venture as a non-stop transatlantic flight, however it may be looked upon as an exhibition of heroic courage, is fundamentally wrong. Every sport, he urges, takes into consideration the risks of accident and the possibilities thereof, but that a conception of sport which involves the death of brave men as the almost inevitable consequence of failure is barbarian. The enthusiasm aroused on two continents by endeavors to perform such a perilous feat is looked upon by the general as shameful, as a reproach to the high degree of civilization the world of today professes to possess.

The fact that an aeroplane, traveling over a limited territory in which there was little variation of atmospheric conditions and all conditions were favorable, has been kept aloft sufficiently long to more than make a non-stop flight across the Atlantic from New York to Paris, the general holds, is no proof that the same aeroplane can make a straightaway flight through many changes of temperature and air currents under conditions which are unfavorable, or even ordinary. Even should a non-stop crossing be made between the points named, or between other points equally distant and separated by the Atlantic, it would not prove anything beyond the courage of the aviators making it, nor would two or three successful flights this year establish more than that. They would have to be considered as exceptional, and admitted to be lucky outcomes of needless risks of human lives.

There are many who will be reluctant to take this French expert's view regarding non-stop transatlantic flights, but there can be no question but what there is a large element of truth in much he has to say. None can deny that such attempted flights are experiments of the highest risk, that they are hazardous in the extreme. Nor can he be controverted in holding that there has not yet been a flight by a heavier-than-air machine under conditions which justify more than a reasonable hope that a non-stop flight between New York and Paris will be successfully accomplished. If the machine acts perfectly, if the weather conditions throughout the trip are good, if no adverse winds prematurely exhaust the gasoline supply, if the occupants of the plane suffer no illness to unfit them—in the present attempt Captain Lindbergh is alone—the attempt may, probably will, prove successful, but any one of these possibilities may cause it to end disastrously.

Let us hope that none of these handicaps mentioned will be suffered by Captain Lindbergh. Let us hope that weather and atmospheric conditions may hold good, and that he may reach Paris safely. His spectacular record flight from the Pacific to the Atlantic has so riveted the attention to him; his daring in "hopping off" alone in the face of the disasters of the last few weeks has so thrilled our people, that we forget that his course may not be one of judgment and look forward with the one thought and hope that it may be crowned with success.

This country may be a long way from a dictator, but we already know what it is to be ruled by organized minorities, and when it comes right down to brass tacks, the principle of the two is very much the same.

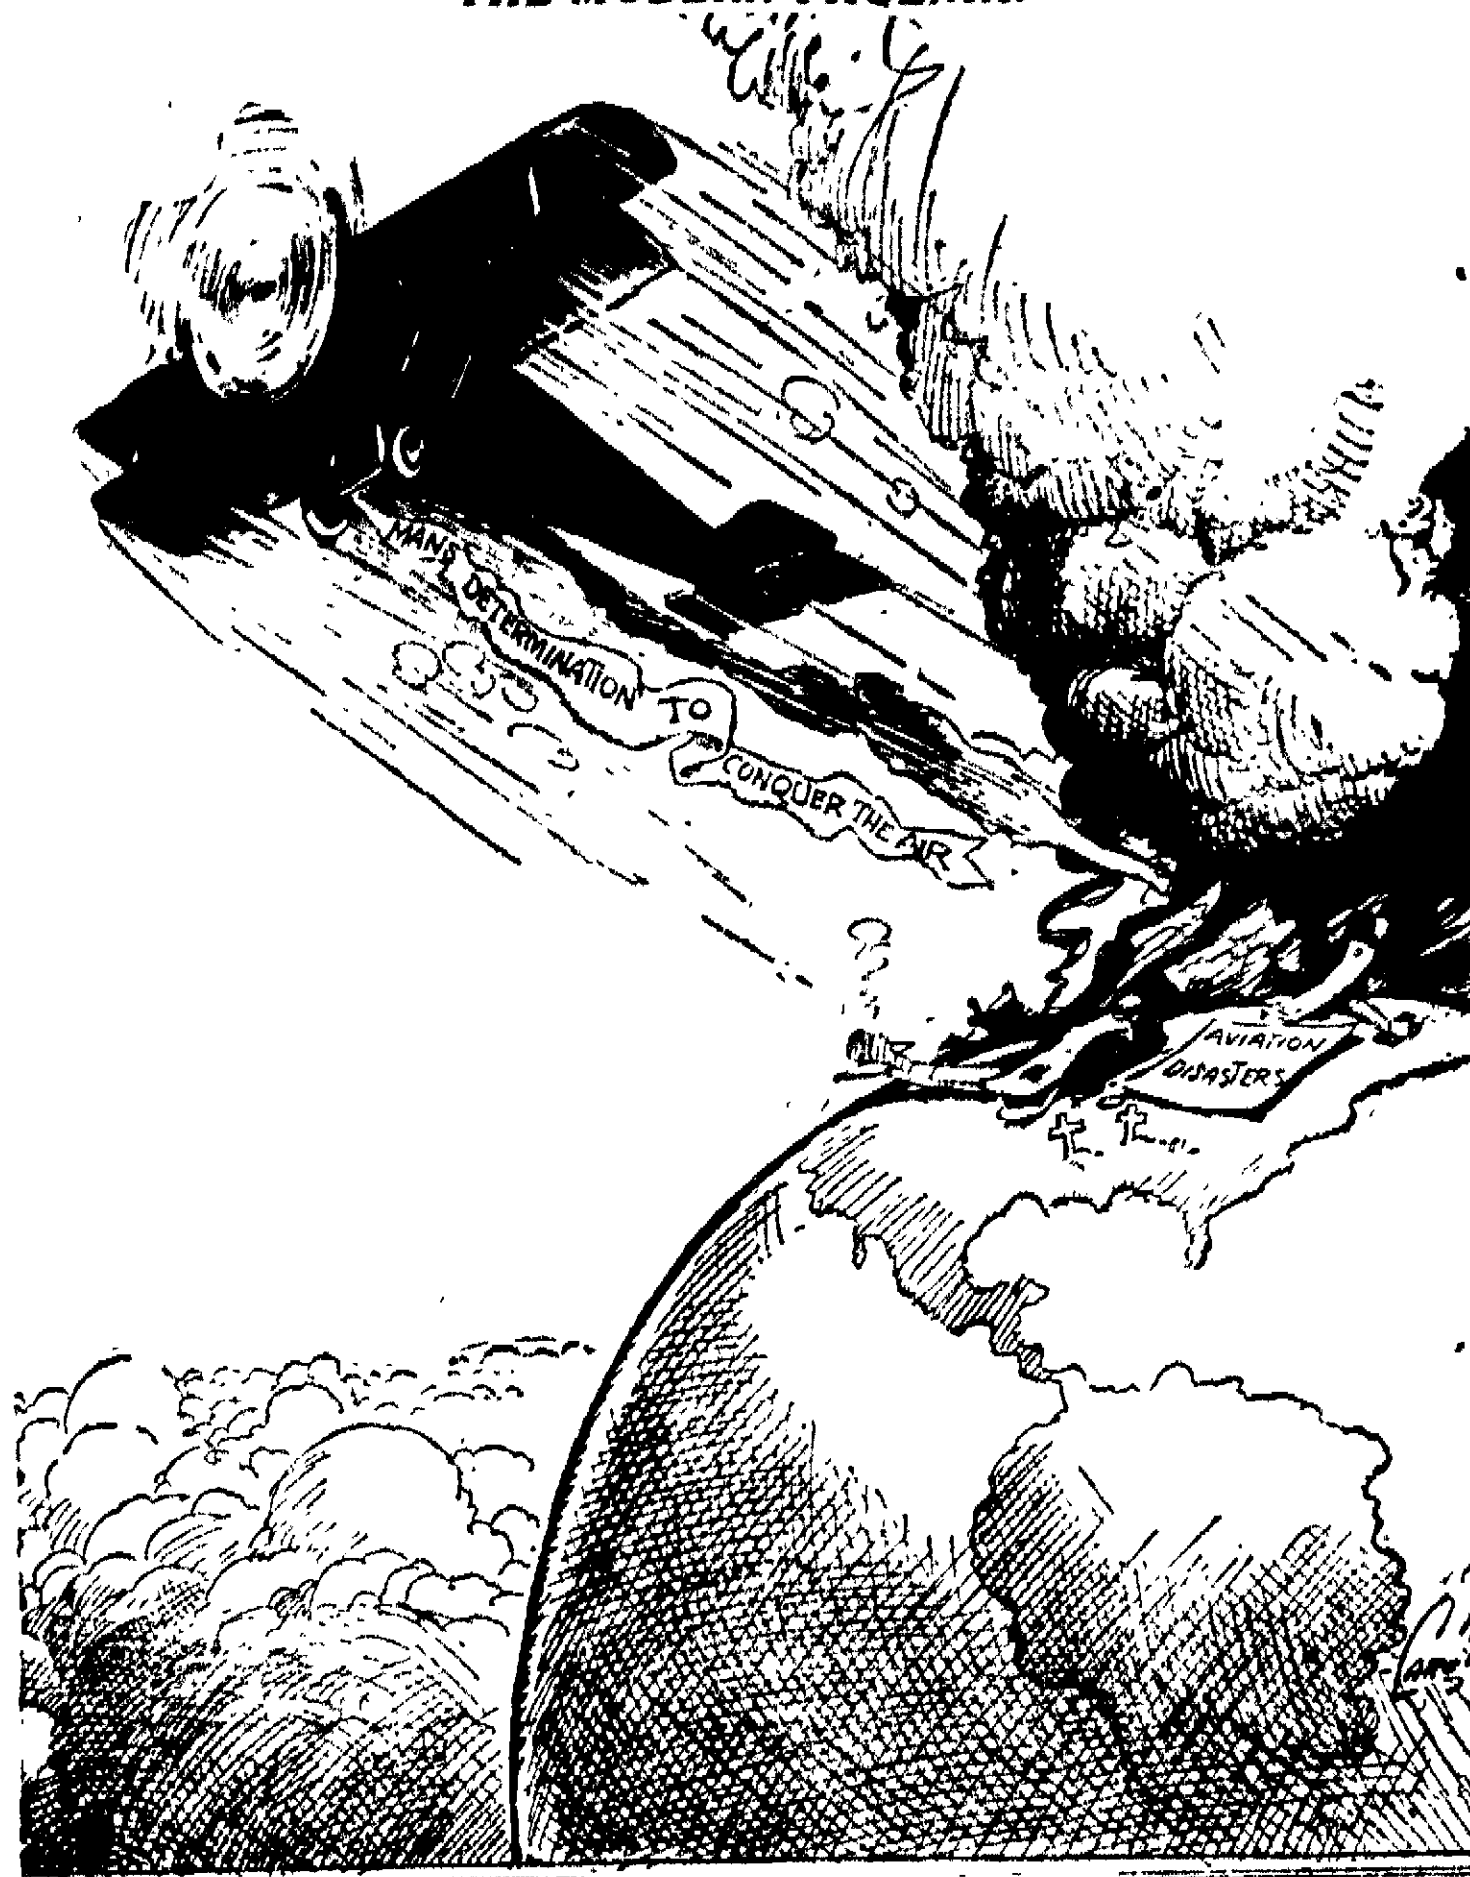

The Ohio State Journal paragraph says "there are ladies in our church to whom our pastor, always a prudent man, won't speak except in the presence of a third person, since he read Elmer Gantry," but he utterly fails to give even a hint as to whether his good pastor fears the ladies in question or himself.

Poems That Live.

TO A SCULPTOR.

This day you have wrought mightily in stone.
 This day you carved upon its stony elements
 Something of old eternal Attic stillness, something of peace
 Deep as the curve of river reeds when warm winds blow.
 This day your spirit, subtle-bright, has pierced Through leagues of stony space. Over against Malice inert has stood the eternal Yes.
 To our dull earth, through godlike travelling,
 An added light and wonder has come home.
 There will be new soft singing in the leaves tonight.
 New light upon the alder bushes, deeper tones Upon the wings of fireflies. Down all the lanes
 Of sunset sky beauty will beat with stronger challenging.
 And those swift winds that blow from heart to heart
 Will move to wider music. Something of strange
 And eager loneliness has come to pass.
 For every inch of light that you have won
 Out of the blind confusion of our days
 Our endless thanks. So once Praxiteles Dreamed out his soul in stone.
 There will be deeper sunrise on the hills at morn.
 And all the little ships at sea
 Will move more joyously.
 This day you have wrought mightily in stone.
 —Mary Siegrist.

THE MODERN PHOENIX.

Headache from Many Causes.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

There are many varieties of headache. It may be a general pain, appearing to cover the whole head. It may feel as if a nail were being driven into the skull. Your ability to perform your daily task may be impaired by a dull, lagging, distracting ache in the forehead, or the back of the neck.

Sometimes there is a sensation as if the skull were being squeezed and crushed in the jaws of a vise. There may be stabbing pains, or they may be throbbing, beating, or burning.

The headache may be one-sided, or on top of the head. It may be constant or intermittent. It may be periodical or occasional. But no matter what its variety, it is unpleasant to have a headache.

Your headache may come from a disordered stomach. Overeating or the consumption of contaminated food is likely to set up a fermentation. In consequence there is gas formation and abdominal distention. Pretty soon the pain in the head begins.

That is the history of many a headache. Constipation is another important causative factor. The waste materials of the bowels are absorbed by the system. Some of the poisons appear to have a direct effect upon the circulation of the brain tissues. When this happens your poor head throbs and pains you dreadfully.

If the kidneys fail to function properly, they should, waste materials may be retained in the system. It is not uncommon in such cases to have headache as a prominent symptom.

Lack of fresh air and lack of cleanliness of the skin, as well as failure of the proper disposal of body wastes, are among the causes which may produce headache. Neglect of the simple rules of hygiene is a foolish practice.

Poor absorption from bad gums, decayed teeth, infected tonsils and nasal sinuses, or from any other pus centers may be the cause of disturbance of the system. Of this disturbance, headache may be the chief symptom.

Perhaps the one thing most productive of this uncomfortable ailment, is eyestrain. It must not be overlooked as a cause.

There is a foolish prejudice against glasses. If your eyes are not as they should be, or the eye muscles are not properly balanced, there may be no sign in the eyes themselves. The only evidence of strain may be a persistent headache, perhaps with dizziness and sickness at the stomach.

If you are the victim of headache, do not trust to pills and powders. Find out what is wrong and get rid of the cause. There is no other safe and certain means of relief.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES

D. D. Q.—I am twenty-four years of age, five feet four inches tall—what should I weigh?
 2—What would cause red spots in the front of the neck?
 3—Is so-called goose flesh a healthy condition?
 4—Would herb tonic be harmful to the heart in any way?

A—You should weigh about 130 pounds.
 2—Can not tell without examination. Have your doctor advise you.
 3—Is this a permanent condition or does it occur only when you are cold? The latter condition is normal, but if the condition is permanent you may have a coarse-grained skin.
 4—If it has not been prescribed by a doctor knowing your condition it would be unwise to take it for any purpose whatsoever.—Copyright, 1927.

PRICES AND WAGES IN ITALY.

It speaks well for Italian discipline under the Fascist regime that Mussolini's last attack on the problem of the cost of living should be by reducing wages. Nearly always in postwar readjustments in Europe the wage earners have been asked to accept reductions only when justified by lower prices. In Italy the workers are now called upon for a sacrifice in the form of a ten per cent. cut until such time as the government can bring about a corresponding decline in prices. Last winter the general price index was about 670; that is to say, nearly seven times the pre-war level. Wages were thirteen per cent. above what they were before the war. This was an improvement over conditions at the beginning of the year, when real wages were only eighty-three per cent. of the pre-war level. In December last the Turin correspondent of The London Economist wrote that "prices will have to move a long way downward before wages can be touched."

Mussolini is of a different mind. He feels himself sufficiently strong to begin his campaign by ordering a slash in wages which brings them down to four-fifths of the pre-war level. This means that if he is to hold the balance equal he must now bring about a reduction of twenty per cent. in prices. It is already announced that employers will be asked to cut down the costs of production. But from other sources it would appear that the problem is not so much with the producers as with the middlemen. Retail prices have been absolutely maintained. It therefore remains to be seen how soon the manufacturers and trading classes will be called upon to accept the sacrifice which the Fascist state demands from every one and which it has already exacted from the workers.

The apparent ease with which Mussolini's reforms are applied, at least so far as the workers are concerned, may be a tribute to the Fascist method as a method. The actual results attained are a different matter. To the mass of Italian workers Fascism has brought no visible improvement in material well-being. As stated above, real wages, even before the latest cut, were considerably lower than before the war. With this may be compared the results attained in Germany by comparable methods. Wages in eleven German industries during the last three years have risen thirty-three per cent. for unskilled workers and sixty-six per cent. for skilled workers. The cost of living has remained virtually unchanged. German workmen would thus be from one-third to two-thirds better off than they were three years ago. In Italy there has been very slight improvement, if any.—New York Times.

MORE APPLIED SOVIETISM.

In the educational units of soviet Russia that correspond to the American high schools, a meeting of a class in protest against a teacher who has refused to give passing marks to an idle student is sufficient to get the teacher discharged. What might be expected has resulted. To hold their jobs, instructors take care not to offend those in their charge.

Says a correspondent, a native of Russia who revisited his old schools: "Not one of a hundred of these students can solve a plain algebra or geometry problem. They do not read their own classics. As for Shakespeare, Milton and Byron, they have not the slightest idea who they were or what they wrote. But every one of them knows the works of Upton Sinclair by heart."

It would appear, though, that the students have some notion of logic. If sovietism goes on the assumption that brains and training and experience are of no importance in running an industrial plant as compared with the desires or convictions of the soviet committee, it stands to reason that the same principle is sound one in the management of schools.—Detroit Free Press.

FOOLING ZEPPELINS.

It was during the war. Rain was falling steadily as the weary cyclist plowed through the mud. At last he spied a figure walking toward him through the gloom. He asked the native: "How far away is the village of Poppenitz?"
 "Ten miles of the other way," replied the native.
 "The other way?" exclaimed the cyclist. "But the last sign post I passed said it was in this direction."
 "Fooling the native," he turned them sign posts around backwards to fool the Zeppelins!—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Odd Bits Worth Knowing.

Byron's "Maid of Athens" was Teresa Macri, afterwards Mr. Black.
 Tennison's copy of Shakespeare was buried with him in Westminster abbey.
 Spenser's "Faerie Queene," a quarter of its intended length, is larger, by far, than any other great literary work.
 The largest picture ever painted, other than a panorama, is Titian's "Paradise," in Venice, which measures eighty-four feet by thirty-five feet.
 The longest sentence in standard literature is one in Hazlitt's "Spirit of the Age," containing 110 lines, the word "and" being ninety-seven times repeated.
 For the first time in the history of English law, the date fixed for a man's execution was cancelled recently, and his case referred to the court of criminal appeal.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

An educator says adult students are the hope of the times. There is far too little studying on the part of grown-ups. To many of the youngsters can't get it out of their minds that commencement is really commencement. When they are through high school—or when they are through college—they have just put themselves in position to study and to learn. The biggest thing school can do is to teach a boy or girl how to study, how to find out how to learn.

William Z. Foster used to be regarded as one of the most dangerous "red" agitators in the United States. People hearing him for the first time always commented on his gentle voice and reserved manner. Most readers, whether their causes are good or bad, are gentle in voice and manner. Blatant bellying attracts only the kind of people that real leaders do not want. The low voice usually has more magnetism than the "holler."

Teachers of science in colleges, like other teachers, get small salaries. Industrial concerns take away many teachers by offering large salaries. Here is a short-sighted policy. The research in pure science, carried on in college laboratories, is of vast benefit to industry. The best men in the scientific world ought to be kept in college work. The world ought to come to realize that the world is possible for colleges to pay large salaries. It is a practical policy.

Don't worry about new inventions in the destructive machinery of war. As H. G. Wells says, we may end war by improving it. More terrible and the more completely destructive war becomes, the shorter time it will last and the slower nations will be to enter into it.

The bishop of London says that at no time in the history of the world have people been so discouraged by doubt and awe as by the modern world. There is another side which the bishop might well look upon. At no time in the history of the world has it been so utterly clear that the universe is operated by law and for a great purpose.

Views of Those in Public Eye.

DR. LEE DE FOREST.

Lee De Forest was born at Council Bluffs, Iowa, August 26, 1873. He is one of the pioneers in the development of wireless telegraphy in America. He was awarded the gold medal at the St. Louis exposition in 1904 for his work in wireless telegraphy and at the San Francisco exposition in 1915 for the radio telephone. He has taken out more than 120 United States and foreign patents on radio telegraphic and telephonic. Dr. De Forest's most important contribution to the science of radio is the three-element radio vacuum tube. He sees the possibility of multiple use of wireless waves just as today we have multiple use of telegraph wires. He says concerning his idea:

"I have felt that in time we would come to compound tuning as a solution to the problem of many stations broadcasting on the present-day bands. Such a system is not substantially new if it is the same as that employed by Professor Reginald Fessenden in 1901 to 1903."

"The carrier wave of a broadcasting station, alone, requires less than one-half kilocycle separation to avoid interference. On this carrier a high-frequency modulator wave of the order of thirty, forty or fifty kilocycles may be imposed, which carrier exclusively the modulations corresponding to speech or music. These modulator frequencies, remote from the frequency of the carrier, may very easily be arranged so that no interference would result between stations. In fact one station might radiate two or three such high-frequency carrier waves with an individual program on each one, all at the same time. One program might be a lecture, one a symphony and the other a concert of lighter music. This system would be a rather complicated and expensive procedure, but it would be one possible way of overcoming our present broadcast troubles. The receiver might be equipped with a three-way switch, so that the listener could select the program desired after the set is once tuned to the unmodulated carrier wave of the station."

In Paris, the Gay.

BY O. O. MINTYRE.

Paris, May 20—Parisian night life is as hectic as that in Ft. Wayne, Indiana. The great Montmartre jazz cafes are dying of their own excesses. Save for Zelli's, where the business is far from good, there is not enough to keep one ordinary-sized place going.

The season for high jinks is here, but the gamblers are skittish. Even those assured enameled ladies who sit about at tables a wink at glibble dotards and induce them to buy wine and who give the impression of cooling under silk, have deserted. The gamblers are too thin.

In one of the broadest spots of smug propriety that used to be packed to capacity I counted seven customers last night. They were obviously timid ladies palpitating with the idea that they were about to see wickedness at its worst.

As I departed the proprietor, whom I have long known, shook his head sadly and said: "This can't be the Paris of old. Night life is supposed to have withered because of the prices. It seems more likely the jazz idea has spent itself. Paris proves it."

Thrill-seekers all over the world are apparently demanding a new deal. The vascinated young pathological and sadistic gigolos who danced their attendance at a much per centage, have vanished. I saw only two in the entire rounds of Montmartre and their spruce air had become seedy.

Many Broadway night club artists, important for what was expected to be a lively season, have met with curt dismissals. The proprietors merely pointed to the empty stage with a deprecatory shrug. And there is hope in London.

The theaters are faring almost as badly. The tarnished revue at the Folies Bergere draws audience nightly about as large as the Puffs and Judy shows along the Champs Elysees. Salaries are at their lowest ebb. The high paid performer in France is the aging and popular Mistinguett, who receives $100 a week.

Georges Carpentier, the fighter, has turned Theoplain and is dancing and singing in a revue that features Florence Walton. He is to be discarded now as a pugilist, but France does not forget its idols. He passed in front of the sidewalk tables of the Cafe de la Paix today and all stood up to give him a rousing cheer.

The most distinct impression one receives after a year's absence from France is stagnation. There is something lethargic in the streets, cafes and among the people. The tourist is not besieged by the usual swarm of door-to-door vendors. There is no coaxing to make sales. The attitude is that of a people who having done their best wait for something to happen. It is not pleasant.

In front of one of the little circular bars today in the Rue des Petits-Champs a street acrobat in patched and faded tights untwined his strip of carpeles in a most mannerly way through his corset. In bending backward to pick up a handkerchief with his teeth he suddenly collapsed like a slowly deflated balloon and laid still. The bar maid rushed out with a pony of brandy which revived him and he moved on. "Falm!" explained the maid. He was exhausted from hunger.

Paris, of course, has not lost its sparkle and nerve entirely. During the tea hour at the Ritz open gardens one sees the fine ladies and the model dandies. The flirtations and the audacious. American millionaires and expatriated divorcees. And always Count Boni de Castellane.

Boni is still a fashion plate with much bearing, curly hair thinned on top, ruddy cheeks and with a rose in his lapel. His English is without an accent. He seems naive and innocuous. Something of a theatre Romeo faltered innumerable times at adequate Juliet.—Copyright, 1927.

Speaker Urges Closer Association in Distribution of Food

GROGERS, MEAT DEALERS ADDRESS

M'Conkey, Springfield, Cooperation in Talk at Star Auditorium

addressed 300 retail grocers and meat dealers at a conference dinner in The Star Auditorium last night.

Retail grocers and meat dealers from practically every city and village within a radius of 50 miles of Marion, as well as some wholesale grocers and fruit dealers, attended the conference. It was the thirtieth held by the state association this year.

A more complete organization with a closer association of the manufacturer, wholesaler and retailer were given by the speaker as the solution to the problem that is now faced by the trio in the promotion of business. In an effort to bring about this closer association, the speaker said, committees are being appointed whose purpose it will be to iron out the differences that spring up between those who have to do with the distribution of foodstuffs.

Cites Example

Dedicated of four bills by the association presented at the last legislature, the passage of which would have worked a hardship on the retail grocer, was cited by the speaker as an example of what can be accomplished by organization. The bills referred to would have legalized merchandising through the schools, would have provided for a fee of $50 a year for any grocer handling tobacco, would have made it compulsory for any grocer selling any sort of patent medicine, to employ a registered pharmacist and would have eliminated the garnish law, the one hope, the speaker declared, of the grocer who sells on credit.

"All others who sell on credit, have a mortgage to cover their merchandise, while that sold by the grocer, is consumed within 24 hours," the speaker said. "The grocer has no chance in the world to recover his merchandise and his only hope in bad accounts is this garnish law."

Fixes Blame

Blame for the present situation especially in the retail grocery field was laid at the door of the retailer by John Green, Cleveland, former president of the National Retail Grocers' & Meat Dealers' Association but now with the American Sugar Refining Co., who was also a speaker.

"Retail grocers of the past and a few of the present have sat down and are taking things as they come, kidded themselves that nothing can hurt them. But they now see their mistake," the former president of the association declared. As a solution to the situation in which retailers now find themselves the speaker urged organization and cooperation on the part of the wholesaler, retailer and manufacturer with closer attention to service, quality and personality.

Grocers Awakening

That there is an awakening on the part of the retail grocer to the situation is shown by a statement made by the first speaker who said that approximately 10,000 retail grocers had attended the 13 meetings of the association held so far this year.

A short talk in which he outlined the plan of co-operative advertising carried on by the grocers and meat dealers in his city, in their fight with the chain store, was given by Walter Fleck, of the Fleck-Fleck Wholesale Grocers, Tiffin.

C. Z. Zachman, president of the state association and through whose efforts the conference was brought to this city, presided at the meeting. Talks were also made by Ray Ridenbaugh, president of the local association and by Joseph Hindley, of the Hindley Wholesale Grocery Co., of this city. A three-reel motion picture, "Youth Reformed," presented by the Freshman Youth Co., was also a part of the program.

May Be Culmination of Two Years of Friction in Federal Prohibition

Washington, May 20—Recentment, dissatisfaction and uncertainty swept through the federal prohibition army today with the report that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has under consideration drastic changes in the interests of harmony.

Two years of friction between Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, assistant secretary, and Maj. Roy A. Haynes, the present acting commissioner, threatens to culminate in the retirement of both from office.

Despite the reticence of the often repeated statement of Andrews' office that he "has no thought of resigning," it was stated on good authority that the dry czar has informed Secretary Mellon that he is willing to turn the job over to a successor at any time.

Lowman Possibility

Seymour Lowman, former lieutenant governor of New York, who was mentioned as a possibility for prohibition commissioner today was being looked for by Andrews' office. Lowman is a dry League backer, in contrast to Andrews, a liberal regarding the dry forces.

Failing to obtain the commissionership for Haynes the Anti Saloon League apparently has turned its guns on Andrews.

Mellon was understood to be considerably nettled over the almost constant turmoil that has existed in prohibition work for many months. "Getting prohibition out of politics," "union liquor," the medicinal supply, detective story methods of undercover agents, "bridge club" traps, and intrigues to "get" Haynes are held up by the wets as making a farce comedy out of the American drugging process.

Mellon Satisfied?

The administration, it was understood, is anxious to substitute a less spectacular conduct of affairs, although Mellon declared that he was well satisfied with the progress made by General Andrews toward enforcement.

Mellon was expected to talk the situation over with President Coolidge today, after which there was a probability that the treasury would announce the appointment of the new prohibition commissioner.

As yet from declaring that Dr. James M. Doan, chief chemist of the prohibition service, was "under serious consideration" for the commissionership, Mellon so far has declined to discuss the appointment.

The Anti-Saloon League today delivered to President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon a demand that the new dry regime set up by the reorganization act of the last congress, be made virtually an independent arm of the government.

League's "Advice"

The league's pronouncement, contained in a resolution of its executive committee, reminded Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Mellon that the act was passed with "the unmistakable understanding" that the new commissioner of prohibition "would be entirely free and unhindered in the performance of his duties."

While the prohibition chiefs refused to amplify their statement, it was declared to be tantamount to an open declaration that the new commissioner must be independent of the dictation of Mr. Mellon and Lincoln C. Andrews, supreme dry forces in cabinet, to satisfy them.

HOOVER READIES PARISHES FOR FINAL WATERS

Secretary Moves to Southern Part of Louisiana; Opelousas Has 4,000 Exiles

Opelousas, La., May 20—Secretary of Commerce Hoover moved around the southern edge of Louisiana's inland ocean today to prepare the lower parishes of the state for the final devastating sweep of the Mississippi's history-making orgy.

This French city with an Indian name has almost doubled its population during the last 48 hours as flood exiles from a hundred miles around have rushed to its 60-foot elevation for safety from the unprecedented burden of the Mississippi, rolling into St. Martin Parish today with its eight-foot blanket of blighted water.

To its normal population of approximately 2,000 there has been added, since the evacuation warnings of State Relief Director John M. Parker 48 hours ago, a nomadic band of more than 4,000 more, with their cattle, swine and mules. The refugees are encamped in the hunkie-peeked mushroom city of the Red Cross. The cows, pigs and mules are thriving on army hay along the ridge where the hinterland dips into the yellow muddy flood waters already engulfing the countryside.

Other new camps have been established at St. Martinsville, Lafayette and Alexandria. Between 60,000 and 80,000 refugees have been received in 11 Louisiana Red Cross concentration centers since the Mississippi waters boared through the melted levees along the Bayou des Glaives last week. Between ten and thirteen thousand more are expected from St. Martin, Iberia, Iberia, Lafayette and St. Mary Parishes before the crest of the now-formed Mississippi channel through the Atchafalaya basin passes into the Gulf of Mexico about June 1.

It is less disagreeable to be under severely hated than to hate.

MEMBERS of the Child Conservation League concluded their season with a delightfully appointed one-o'clock luncheon yesterday in the ballroom at Hotel Harding. Baskets of spirea, tulips, and lilies-of-the-valley added an attractive touch to the table which was arranged to form the letter U. Candles in pastel shades held in crystal holders completed the appointments. During the dinner hour a musical program was given by the Rhythm Pals, Miss Dorothy Zieg, Miss Ruthella Roush and Miss Anna Von Epp, Miss Janet Trotter sang beautifully, "Daffodils Come Home Today," John Dismore and "Little House o' Dreams," Metcalf. Her accompaniments were played by Miss Elma Sage. Following the dinner of the coming year were installed. They are Mrs. O. C. Alspaugh, president; Mrs. Guy H. Hulke, vice president; Mrs. Rose Ballentine, recording secretary; Mrs. Katherine Denning Smith, corresponding secretary and Mrs. M. Y. Gast, treasurer. The luncheon was in charge of Mrs. Carl Dauchner, Mrs. M. Y. Gast and Mrs. Clifford Bartlett, members of the social committee, assisted by Mrs. Ray Miller, retiring president.

MR. AND MRS. A. F. LINSKOTT entertained at a six-o'clock dinner last night at their home, 280 S. State-st., complimenting Dr. E. P. Leonard, of Bucyrus, who will leave soon to attend the convention of Rotary International in Ostend, Belgium. Guests included Mrs. Leonard, mother of Dr. Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse H. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Evans. Mr. Mason also will attend the Rotary meeting and enjoy a tour of Europe this summer.

Mrs. A. W. Swan is honored. Honoring Mrs. Alfred W. Swan, president of the Delphin Club, who expects to leave soon to make her home in Greeley, Colo., members of the club were entertained at a house picnic yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. F. Lurie, E. Center-st. Mrs. Swan was presented a remembrance. Mrs. Lulu Merchant, vice president, assumed the presidency when Mrs. Swan resigned and Mrs. Carl Walcott was elected vice president. The club will meet in October.

Bay View Club Members conclude season. Members of the Bay View Club concluded their season with a six-o'clock dinner last night at the home of Mrs. W. L. Stump, Linden-st. Members in which the birthdays of the members occurred were indicated in the roll call responses and Miss Mabel Turner, chairman of the program committee, presented the program topics, "Danger Spots in the World Today," and "Modern Literature." Miss Florence Wess and Miss Marie Ruchmann gave reports on the state convention of federated clubs held here this month. Mrs. R. G. Williams entertained with two vocal numbers, "I for You and You for

NOTHING SARTORIAL IS MORE USED THAN LACE

LACE is one of the best liked and most used fabrics of the season. Lace dresses and elaborate lace trimmings are very much in evidence. The sweet girl graduate may trim her dress with it, providing, of course, the rules of her school permit it. And the bride may decorate her wedding gown as much as ever she wishes with this alluring material.

The addition of a small cape of silver lace falling over the shoulders of the light fitting satin, bodice of the frock on the left above, gives a charming finishing touch. The skirt is composed of tiers of net ruffles over a short underskirt of silver lace. Silver flowers attached to the skirt form another trimming feature of the dress which is orchid in color. Silver slippers and hose, of course, complete this costume which Barbara Kent is wearing.

The frock of slimmer lines (right) is composed also of lace, but combined this time with chiffon, both in flesh color. It is further decorated with pearls.

The interesting sketch in the middle is another frock with tiered ruffles and a short underskirt. The tiers are pointed and edged in crystals. The bodice is embellished with sequins, rhinestones, pearls and occasional mirror motifs. The interesting thing about the frock is, however, with all this apparent elaboration, its effect is comparatively simple.

Members of the Mizpah Class, Calvary Evangelical Sunday School, entertained last night at the home of Miss Peninah Zachman, St. James-st. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Margaret Whitbeck, Mrs. Nina Lucille Midland, Mrs. George Keckler and Mrs. E. Cowan. Scripture verses were given in response to roll call. Mrs. C. Z. Zachman and her mother, Mrs. Sayre, sang "When Mother Prayed," Mrs. Gertrude Myers, president of the class, gave a talk on "A Prayerful Mother." Mrs. Harry Wilhelm gave an interesting talk on her trip to Florida and Miss Janice Laughman and Miss Elizabeth Zachman entertained with two vocal numbers, accompanied at the piano by Miss Charlotte Courtney.

During a short business session it was decided to assist in the movement for placing a million Testaments in China and also to contribute to the Jewish Mission in Brooklyn. During the social hour refreshments were served. The next meeting will be June 16 at the home of Mrs. H. O. Reuger, Elm-st.

TEN GRADUATED FROM IBERIA HIGH SCHOOL

Rev. H. B. Henderson, Grove City, Pa., Delivers Class Address; Program Given

Iberia, May 20—Ten persons were graduated from the Iberia High School, Thursday night. They were Vivian L. Close, Elmer D. Burzgraf, Thelma A. Hillis, Burton Cass, Gladys R. Wilson, Margery C. Thomas, Clarence McClurg, Avis O. Garfield, Lester K. Kuntz and Carol J. Auld.

The exercises were held in the community hall, which was very tastefully decorated in the class colors, old rose and silver. Above and in front of the platform was the class motto, in the colors, "We Fly With Our Own Wings."

As the orchestra played the class members marched in and took their places on the platform. Following is the program: music, invocation by Dr. L. E. Fisher; salutatory, Carol Auld; music, class history, Clarence McClurg; class prophecy, Avis Garfield; class will, Margery Thomas; music. The class address was made by Rev. H. B. Henderson, pastor of the Grove City, Pa., United Presbyterian Church. He is a former resident and graduated from the Iberia High School in the first graduating class, in 1898. He is visiting in the home of his mother, Mrs. Ada Henderson, here.

CAREY COUPLE ARE WED AT PARSONAGE

Carey, May 20—The marriage of Miss Helen Irene Roof, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Roof of four miles north of Carey and Harry Faber, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Faber of Glenay, occurred at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Evangelical parsonage. Rev. I. H. Naumann officiated. After a short wedding trip to Columbus they will reside with the groom's parents for a short time. Mr. Faber is employed on the Big Four section.

GALION MOTHER SEEKS MARRIAGE ANNULMENT

Mrs. Amy Hillis Files Action in Crawford County Common Pleas Court

Galion, May 20—An eventful romance which, it is claimed, had as incidents a double elopement and a double marriage ceremony solemnized in a parsonage of a small Kentucky town, was threatened with legal action yesterday when Mrs. Amy Hillis of Galion filed a petition in common pleas court at Bucyrus asking for the annulment of the marriage of her daughter Naomi.

The annulment proceedings revealed for the first time the mystic which occurred at Corning, Ky., Saturday when Naomi Hillis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hillis, was united in marriage to Harold Morgan, of Mansfield, and Naomi Meeker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Meeker, became the bride of Alfred Diemer, Mansfield. Both are students of Galion High School and are 17 years old. Morgan is 21 and Diemer 19.

MARYSVILLE GRADUATES ENJOY CLASS BREAKFAST

Students Present Picture as Memorial to High School; Program Given

Marysville, May 20—Members of the graduating class of Marysville High School enjoyed a class breakfast in the domestic science rooms of the West school building at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning. The tables were beautifully decorated with yellow and white flowers and at each place was a white place card decorated with small white roses.

The breakfast was prepared by the members of the class under the direction of Miss Houston and was served by the girls in the home economics class. The menu was fruit cocktail, ham and eggs and coffee and rolls.

A program was given as follows: Piano solo, Elizabeth Hutson; class poem, Norma Brown; class history, John Lenta; vocal solo, Nellie Taylor; class will, Fred Scheiderer; piano solo, Erna Trapp; class prophecy, Edwin Asmann; class song, Erna Trapp. The program was followed by the presentation of a picture to the school as a memorial to the class.

A feature was an address by F. G. Bittkofer, superintendent of the Marysville public schools. His topic was "What Is Success?" The definition of the word "success" was passed out to the seniors in form of a poem on small cards.

Here's Real Relief From Neuritis

In 24 to 48 Hours Pains Are Often Relieved and You Get Rest and Comfort Again.

Torturing pains—the kind that pierce and burn and never seem to let up—that rob a man of his sleep—that make him just a bag of nerves and all worn out.

These are the pains that dope and coal tar products can only partially relieve.

The safest and most efficient way to get rid of the persistent, nerve-racking pains of Neuritis is to get a bottle of Allenru Special Formula No. 2. Be sure you get No. 2, which comes in capsule form. Take these little dark green capsules as directed and in about 24 hours you should be able to notice that they have considerably reduced if not almost banished those severe, torturing pains that have caused you so many sleepless nights. Continue for two or three days more or until you are satisfied with results.

It doesn't matter how long you may have suffered or whether your Neuritis is in the shoulder, arm, neck or leg. Allenru Special Formula No. 2 should give you speedy relief. Bradley Drug Store or any good druggist will be glad to supply you.—Adv.

TOOK MEDICINE AND TREATMENTS AT COST OF $700

But Was Never Free of Health Troubles Until She Got Konjola, Says Ohio Lady

MRS. ANNA DZYORIO

personally explaining to large crowds of Marion people every day at the Stump Pharmacy, (Stump & Sons), 121 South Main St., this city.

Just recently, Mrs. Anna Dzyorio, a well-known Youngstown, Ohio lady, living at 145 North Prospect St., this city, made the following statement about Konjola.

"For several years I have taken treatments and medicines," said Mrs. Dzyorio. "At a cost of more than $700.00, but all this money was wasted and I was never free of my health troubles until I got this Konjola."

"I had stomach trouble for years. Everything I ate seemed to turn to acid. Rinses of sour food would come into my throat, causing a hot feeling in my chest. I always bloated up with gas so that I could hardly breathe, and terrible pains would center in the pit of my stomach. Sometimes I had such violent spells of indigestion that I felt like I would never pull thru."

"When I started taking Konjola I was surprised how rapidly this medicine took effect. In a little while I was able to eat anything I wanted without having indigestion. Now the pains are entirely gone from my stomach and I am free of all my troubles. I suffered. My food was sour and my treatments like I used to get were costing me a lot of money. After the wonderful work of Konjola I gladly endorse it to others who are in need of this medicine."

"The Konjola Man is at the Stump Pharmacy, (Stump & Sons), 121 South Main St., Marion, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.—Adv.

Singer's Body

Naples, May 20. Tourists can no longer see the body of Caruso who died here a few years ago.

His embalmed body, in evening clothes, was one of the sights of the city. But the appearance of movie cameramen to film it and turn it into a screen stunt so enraged the Neapolitans that they have had a slab of granite, weighing 1 1/2 tons, placed in front of the entrance to his tomb. Inside the glass coffin is safe from prying eyes. Caruso's body was embalmed by a Neapolitan process discovered by a Neapolitan about 25 years ago. The embalmer claims that the process is so good that the subject retains its lifelike appearance forever. Caruso's body is still perfectly lifelike.

The angry cameramen, who gave the alarm when he realized that pictures had been taken, could not tell how much of the film was ready before he and the intruders turned out of the cemetery.

Neapolitans hope that not enough film was taken to serve as part of a film. They have a superstitious dread of photographs of the dead, and were filled with indignation at what they consider an insult to the memory of one of their most beloved citizens.

Literary circles now present a general view of the interior of the tomb.

One who believes in uplifting the world by persuasion can be a really good man; but not one who believes in doing it by force.

SPORT SAUCE

BY EDDIE SCHONLEB

Muddy and rain soaked diamonds last night served as a bitter-sweet sauce for many an ambitious batter or fielder during the Industrial League games, three of which were played in spite of the unfavorable weather.

When a batter popped out a little infield fly, he explained that the slippery ball slid off the bat. When a fielder made a blunder, he told the world that the wet slippy ball was the cause.

The muddy diamonds really were a great handicap to batters. Probably the most shining example was demonstrated on Steam Shovel Diamond No. 3, where 11 Osgood runners crossed the plate in seven innings. In one certain spot between home and third base, each man managed to run a short time without getting anywhere in particular but eventually would grab a football and beat the ball to the plate.

Even the slippery footing didn't keep the Steam Shovel from scoring more runs than any other team in one game so far this season. They counted 21 in six innings and deemed it unnecessary to bat in the last of the seventh. The Marion Packing Co. was the victim.

On one occasion, Bacon hunted, but fell headlong as he started for first base. While he was picking himself up the opposing first baseman missed the throw to the initial sack. Bacon galloped safely to first.

Industrial League teams should be congratulated for even attempting to play ball last night. Had the games been called off, another mix-up in the recreational ball schedule would have occurred.

ANOTHER Marion County athlete is expected to show in the state track and field high school meet at Ohio Stadium next Saturday. Earl Purman of Green Camp, Javelin thrower, will try his luck in that event.

Three Industrial League Games Played; Postpone Gardner-Fairfield Clash

Mud-Slinging Contests on Soggy Diamonds Feature Industrial Loop; Two Games Are Massacres; C., D. & M. and Shovel Head League

THREE mud-slinging contests played on the Central Junior diamond last night in the Industrial League. The C., D. & M. defeated the Gardner-Tap 10 to 3. The Erie Shovel, 5 to 3. The Osgood, 2 to 1.

Taking an early lead in the first inning, the C., D. & M. had scored five runs before the Erie finally came around for two in the fourth frame. Macken led the C., D. & M. in hitting. Out of four trips to the plate, he received a sacrifice, three hits, and three runs. One of the hits was a two-bagger. The C., D. & M. was credited with only seven hits but made eight runs. The Erie received five hits for three runs.

Kochenberger and Christman were the C., D. & M. batteries while Fritz did the pitching and Lowe was on the receiving end for the Erie.

Here are the scores:

Team	AB	R	H	E
Osgood	25	2	10	3
Erie	25	5	10	3
C., D. & M.	25	10	10	3
Gardner-Tap	25	3	10	3

Osgood Wins

On Steam Shovel diamond No. 3, only a few yards from the game mentioned above, another topside contest was played in the mud. Osgood had charge of the second massacre with Huber the victim. The final score was 2 to 1.

Osgood scored in every inning except the fourth and seventh. Huber counted one in the fourth and another in the final frame. Corwin and Baker were the Osgood batteries while Cliff Lutzke and Chenoweth held those positions for Huber.

The best game of the three took place on the Gardner-Tap diamond.

NEWCOMERS IN FOURTH MARION BOXING SHOW

Tommy Lane of Toledo Is Booked for Main Go Friday

MARION fight fans will have an opportunity next Friday night of seeing several new mitt throwers in action when the fourth boxing match of the season will be held in Eagles' Hall, W. Center st.

Leading among the newcomers in Marion will be Tommy Lane, weighing 122 pounds, and coming from Toledo. He will take on Irv. Grace of Columbus, in the main bout. The main bout is scheduled for eight rounds.

Lane has a number of knockouts to his credit and has not such boys as Tony Gazzoza, K. O. Morgan, Kid

REPORT ATTEMPT TO BRIBE SHARKEY

New York, May 20.—A report that a gambler had offered a $150,000 bribe to Johnny Sharkey, manager of Jack Sharkey, in his bout with Jim Maloney here tonight, stirred promoter Tex Rickard to action this morning.

If any attempt was made to bribe Sharkey, it will be taken up with the district attorney, Rickard declared.

The name of the gambler, who is alleged to have made the offer to Sharkey at a hotel here on Wednesday night, was not revealed. Rickard said he kept the matter quiet as long as possible in order not to cause Sharkey worry.

Jack, Buddy Hill, Mickey Mayer, and these boys have a splendid record and have yet to be defeated.

All local fans are familiar with Sharkey, who fought Ray Newton here three weeks ago in one of the best matches of the season.

Clyde Tremaine will take on Lew Adair of Toledo, in the semi-final, scheduled for six rounds at 124 pounds. Tremaine appeared here in the first match of the season, against Ray Newton in the main go. The two fought to a draw. Adair is well known in Toledo fight circles and has an excellent record.

Lester Sutton of Findlay, and Tony Lombardo of Toledo, are booked for the six round preliminary at 132 pounds. Little is known about the two, but they are well recommended by promoters.

Ray Schneider, the Marion boy who made a whirlwind debut in the local ring during the last boxing show with a win against Hobbs Watts of Columbus, in the curtain-raiser, Schneider made a hit with the local fans in his first appearance and is booked again in the request of Marion fight enthusiasts.

Make Plans for Another Marion and Bucyrus Relay

PLANS are being made for another relay race between Marion and Bucyrus, athletes of each of these cities to take part, but unfavorable weather may cause the postponement of the event until fall.

The distance between the two cities is calculated at 18 miles. Last year 30 local youths competed with 39 runners from Bucyrus in covering the distance. Each boy ran a half mile. Bucyrus won the race, making the trip in an hour and 27 minutes.

FACULTY AGAIN WINS, LEADS SCHOOL LEAGUE

Defeats Sophomores, 8-0, on Central Junior Diamond

The Faculty strengthened its hold on first place in the high school recreational ball league last night when it defeated the Sophomores, 8 to 0, on the slippery Central Junior High diamond.

The victory was so complete that the losers could not even excuse themselves because of wet grounds.

Balmer and Wet were the winning batteries, while McMahon, Perry, Peterson and Gillis were used as a combination in an attempt to stop the batting speed of the Faculty.

RAIN MAY AGAIN POSTPONE MATCH

New York, May 20.—Rain may again cause a postponement of the Jack Sharkey-Jim Maloney heavyweight bout at Yankee Stadium here tonight. Although the stars were clear this morning, showers were predicted by the weather bureau for tonight.

If rain washes out the bout tonight, it will be held tomorrow night, weather permitting.

Gehrig Shines as Yankees Continue Their Rampage Through Western States

Former Columbia Star Knocks Out Ninth Home Run of Season as New York Outfit Trims Cleveland Indians, 4 to 3

NEW YORK, May 20.—As the Yankees, with a season's winning streak, continue to roll over western teams to stride to the top in their attack is not Babe Ruth, but Lou Gehrig. The bucky first baseman counted his ninth home run of the season against Cleveland yesterday, tying Ruth, and also boosted his batting average to .425, the highest percentage for regulars in either league.

Gehrig also has made more hits and scored more runs than any player in either league. No other American League slugger has hit nearly as many triples. Pitchers have not nearly passed Ruth in that regard, however, as he has pitched to the Babe and handed out free transportation to the former Columbia star, and Colonel Jake Roberts, owner of the Yankees, has been known to be paid with another $70,000 contract.

Although he allowed only five hits, Owen Carroll of Detroit, former king of eastern college pitchers, lost a 3 to 0 shut to Hollis Thurston of Washington. Rigney's triple in the seventh broke up the game.

Rain prevented all eight National League teams from playing.

If Youth But Knew

BY CHESTER D. LONG
President American Bar Association

PERHAPS the quality that Age can most fittingly recommend to Youth is tolerance.

It is only upon terms of tolerance that we can possess liberty, and liberty is the most desired thing upon earth.

We live with persons who have rights equal to our own. To secure our own rights, we must submit to a reasonable regulation of our actions. This is necessary in society. But while we recognize that certain regulation of our actions is necessary, we MUST preserve to ourselves and to others a complete liberty of thought. To the old phrase "live and let live" we should add in italics, "Think and let think."

It is natural for the young to be arrogant, to be sure of their selves, to be sure they are right, not so sure the other fellow is right, and not too willing to see his point of view.

What is Liberty?

It is only after life and experience have got in their work that a man really acquires the freedom to live. He must learn to think, plan, and come to know that only through liberty comes happiness and content.

What is Liberty?

Recently it was defined by the United States Supreme Court as follows:

"Liberty denotes not merely freedom from bodily restraints, but also the right of the individual to contract, to engage in any of the common occupations of life, to acquire useful knowledge, to marry, to establish a home and bring up children, to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience, and generally to enjoy those privileges long recognized at common law as essential to the orderly pursuit of happiness by free men."

Could anything better be posted into a young man's hat for guidance through life?

Must Give Demand

There is no business or profession in which a young man chooses to embark, where he will not get ahead faster by giving and demanding liberty. He will be a better theologian if he respects the liberty of the theologian. He will be a better lawyer if while preserving a measure of conservatism, he also recognizes that progress necessitates change. He will be a better executive if he consents with others, gives the consent and contracts of others but stays. He will be a better writer, merchant, soldier, farmer or statesman if he is open-minded and tolerant of new ways, new ideas and ideals, and gives his fellowmen the same chance to think, do and say as he wants for himself.

Liberty with government! That is what we need, individually and as a nation. Through the ages there has been liberty without government. There has also been government without liberty. But there has always been the hope for liberty with government.

Man may live alone with liberty but he cannot live in society without government. He must give up some of his liberty in order to preserve the rest. That is a lesson for Youth. And the wiser Youth knows that tolerance is the basis of liberty and that liberty is the basis of success and happiness, the more surely will the forces gather and over the land to preserve liberty of opinion, liberty of the teacher, to teach, liberty of the child to learn and liberty of the states to face local self-government that more blessings shall seem to descend and our position.

LONDON ADDS POLICE IN BATTLE ON CRIME

London, May 19.—Two hundred more police are to be engaged in the London Metropolitan Police Force in an attempt to combat the increasing crime in suburban areas. Districts which a few years ago were merely urban villages and small towns, but the police force is sergeant and a few men have remained the same, and this fact has been taken advantage of by London crooks.

What the heathen nations must be that the people that are civilized them are often at war with each other.

TAG SOAP will not fade colored clothes; nor shrink woollens; nor harm your hands.

JUDGE SOAP by the work it will do—not by its color or appearance; nor by a seemingly low price. Note the lasting quality of TAG SOAP.

BEWARE of a perfumed laundry soap, for without the perfume the rancid odor of the low grade ingredients instantly would repel you.

Judge Intentions Not Fully to be Announced

Held: One He'll Whether He Has Candidate

S. P. STEWART
May 20—Your intentions are available plan for to run again and that way if much, though he must do one two things.
of a choice it understand. It president's reissue, even if he again. It makes are that Cal's
the 1928 convention without announcing whether he's a candidate for a renomination or not.

This certainly will be interpreted as meaning that he is.
If, up to that stage of the game, he hasn't said anything about the third term issue, it will be assumed that he considers it an issue best left alone.
On that basis he'll be renominated,
according to theory No. 1.
Whether or not he'll be re-elected is another matter, but nobody denies that he'll be renominated if he insists.
THEORY No. 2 is that he thinks his acceptance of a renomination would generally be regarded as a bid for a third term, that he's opposed to it, or doesn't believe he could get away with it, and that he doesn't intend to try.
Yet theorists in class No. 2 opine that the president will, nevertheless, let the 1928 convention open up without ever having expressed himself on the subject either of his own re-nomination or a third term.

They predict that he will look up to the voters as if Cal's renomination was a foresured.
And then—
It will be some That's theory No. 2.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

Live Southern

TAKE notice, young ladies, you who are casting a longing eye in the direction of film fame. If your mirror tells you that you have a beautiful face and fine figure, don't be too sure that that is enough to become a star. These days you must have "IT." If you have "IT" you may wake up some morning to find yourself engaged to play the lead opposite some handsome movie hero. Without "IT," however, your chances will be very slim.
Live Southern, another "discovery," has "IT" in such abundance, according to Douglas Fairbanks, that after having seen a film test of her, he immediately engaged her as the leading lady in "The Gambler."

If you are a fan of recent state and national film production in America, feeling that the screen is cheating you out of the best points of a photo-drama, be glad that you are not living in the Far East. For you surely would want a load of pearls.

For instance, how would you like to see one of our American photo-dramas or even one of our best and down to earth comedies when finally shown?
The answer is, of course, some of the best. American pictures exhibited in some parts of the Orient. No emotional scenes are permitted, whatever. No musical numbers are allowed. Weapons of any kind are out of the question in the film. It is almost all rules to keep the screen in a proper manner.

But, you ask, what is the cause of all this restriction? The reason given by the government of morals is that the native is a delicate imitator. He does not fully understand why he cannot carry a gun and shoot if it is done on the screen. He can comprehend that a screen kiss is made for entertainment. At least such is said. Read this dear reader, therefore, and glory in the freedom under which you are permitted to enjoy your entertainment in the U. S. A.

The delightful stage play, "The House of Glass," will be filmed. It has been announced, and the cast will be all-star.

If you feel you must ruberneck it, don't. It is a little less undig-nified than rubernecking on the fly.

and give other candidates a chance to line up their forces?
Precisely. If he gave them the chance, that's just what they'd do.
Until he gives the word, they can't.
He has his candidate all picked out.
If others break in, with plenty of time to get themselves "set," who knows what'll win?
If, however, Cal can keep everything swept up until the very psychological moment arrives, and then deliver his tacking, solid, on the convention floor to his man—
Why, it'll be all over before the acts of the convention chairman's gavel first whang has died away.

THAT'S the choice of theories Washington's offering now.
I give 'em without prejudice. They come straight enough, but you get lots of straight tips that aren't so. Besides, they can't both be right.

Herbert Hoover's is the name you have mentioned in connection with theory No. 2—not Frank O. Lowden's or Nick Longworth's or Charles G.
Dawes.

DR. SWAIN DIES

President Emeritus of Swarthmore Had Served University 22 Years
Chester, Pa., May 20.—Dr. Joseph Swain, 69-year-old president emeritus of Swarthmore College, died in a private infirmary in Swarthmore yesterday. Dr.
Swain, one of the best known educators in the country, retired as active head of the institution in 1921 after 22 years of service.

Dr. Swain was succeeded by Dr.
Frank Aydelott as president.

and Jubilee woke up going to rain today and it did. He told me to go barefoot and wear his rubber coat so I did, and I carried my hat under the coat so it wouldn't get wet and the rain got on my head and ran down my neck and wet me anyhow, and all the rest of the bunch was wet anyhow, and on the way back those of us that could swim went to a lot of fun diving in the upside of the culvert where the road is built up and coming out on the other side.

We could see when we were out because the water would be bright yellow instead of black. A lady stopped her car and helped at us, and when I went to the door of her car she told me she would be frantic if I was her little boy. I told her so would I.

We got to school in time to be sent home for wetness. The rain stopped at noon and the sun came out so we were dry by the time we got home.

"Where to?" asked Fox Style.

"I don't know," answered the boy, and he spoke the truth. He didn't. Another Field Mouse hadn't told him.

"Did you tell I was coming?" asked Fox lazily.

"Yes," admitted the boy.

"Then that is why she was in such a hurry to be off," chuckled Fox. "Mother Field Mouse doesn't trust anyone. Don't blame her—she is such a little thing and she has so much on her mind—there are always so many children for her to look out for. I will say she does the best she can with such a large family and Mr. Mouse out all the time enjoying life in the meadow with his gay bachelor friends. # MRS. BASSETT ALWAYS TIRED

Now in Good Health by Using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lansing, Mich.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound whenever I needed it. When I first used it I was so bad I could hardly walk across the room without crying. I was tired all the time. I think my trouble was coming on me for six months before I realized it. I read of your wonderful medicine in the paper, and my husband bought me a bottle, and after the first few doses I felt better. So kept on taking it until I was well and strong. I take it at times when I feel tired and it helps me. I will always have a good word for your medicine and tell anyone what good it has done me. I recommended it to my neighbor for her girl, who is sixteen years old, and it was just what she needed. She is feeling fine now, and goes to school every day."

—Mrs. E. F. BASSETT, 216 South Hayford Avenue, Lansing, Michigan.

Do not continue to feel all run-down and half sick when Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is sold by druggists everywhere.

LAND BANK HEAD FREE, $25,000 BAIL FURNISHED

Guy Huston, Arrested on Train, Charged With Using Mails to Defraud

Toledo, May 20.—Guy Huston, president of the Chicago Joint Stock Land Bank, was at liberty here today on $25,000 bail furnished by a bonding concern, following his arrest on the Twentieth Century Limited here last night, on federal warrants issued in connection with a secret indictment, charging him with using the mails to defraud.

Huston entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned before U. S. Commissioner F. W. Gaines immediately after he had been taken from the train by federal officers.

The warrant charged specifically that Huston sent letters to L. D. Dorney of Findlay, Ohio, to Park S. Bishop, Delta, O., and to George S. York, Co., Cleveland, O., in connection with companies promoted by Huston, it is alleged, in violation of the postal laws.

Federal officials declared that Huston is under indictment in other cases in Minnesota, in which he is charged with violation of national banking laws and misuse of the mails.

The transactions for which Huston was indicted in the Ohio cases relate to the alleged sale of stock in farmers' fund, of Illinois, Inc., the Kansas Co. of Massachusetts, and the Missouri-Kansas Farms Co. of Kansas City. Misrepresentation of the value of the stock and the dividends to be expected from it forms the basis of the alleged postal violations.

MARILYN MILLER AND

PICKFORD TO SEPARATE

Los Angeles, May 20.—Denying there was "any third party" involved, Jack

Pickford, film actor, admitted today he and his wife, Marilyn Miller, musical comedy star, were planning to obtain a Paris divorce early in June.

Pickford said his wife, who is in Chicago, would embark for Paris soon and he would follow to appear before a divorce tribunal.

"We tried a year's separation to prevent a divorce," Pickford explained,

"but we finally decided we were tempo-mentally unsuited for each other."

The couple was married July 31,

1922, at Beverly Hills in the home of Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks.

SOUTHWESTERN RAIL MERGER IS DEALT BLOW

Ambitious Plans of L. F. Loree to Acquire Roads Go on Rocks

Washington, May 20.—Another proposed railroad merger, involving south-western lines, has gone on the rocks, and Washington experts today predicted that the proposed billion dollar Van Sweringen merger would share a similar fate.

In denying the application of the Kansas City Southern to acquire the Missouri-Kansas-Texas and the St. Louis-Southwestern to acquire the latter through purchase of capital stock, the Interstate Commerce Commission dealt a stunning blow to the ambitious plans of L. F. Loree.

Loree not only wanted to link up these Southwestern lines but he is also endeavoring to have the Delaware and Hudson, of which he is president, lease the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh and form a physical connection between the two roads under franchise rights over Pennsylvania lines between the Baltimore and Duhon, Pa. This proposal is now before the commission, and apparently is destined to rejection.

Gives His Opinion

Another of his plans contemplating the construction of a main line road across Pennsylvania from Allegheny to Erie, and to be financed by the Harriman interests. This plan has never been rejected by the commission but the case has been postponed. The big eastern trunk line railroads are opposed to the new construction and the commission is likely to frown upon it again.

An inkling of what might happen in the Van Sweringen case was contained in the dissenting opinion of Commissioner Meyer in the Katy-Cotton Belt case.

Not Making Trades

"Financial abuses can and should be avoided and fair dealings with minority stock insisted upon," Meyer said. "But it is not our function to make trades between parties and it must be assumed that buyers will pay no more than they are obliged to pay and that sellers will not accept less than buyers are willing to pay. One of the inherent difficulties connected with the grouping of railroads is to prevent prices of the properties to be acquired from being artificially raised to unwarranted levels when buyers cease to be willing buyers or artificially lowered when sellers cease to be willing sellers."

"Proclamation from the house tops of intentions to buy or sell is rarely in the public interest because it tends to increase the aggregate charge which the public must ultimately bear."

When you lend a man $10 worth of your favorite old anecdote on him, he'll have to laugh.
